WAR CRAFT AND AIR CRAFT THERE

Strange and Impressive Gathering in Harbor of New York.

FIRST STEAMBOAT AND LATEST LINER

Naval Powers Send Fleets to the Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

New York, Sept. 24.—All the units which will compose the magnificent marine and aeronautic spectacles during the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson river and the 100th anniversary of Fulton's first trip up that river in a steam boat are gathered in and about New York with the single exception of one of the aeroplanes. And a strange and wonderful fleet of marine and air craft they would make if assembled in comparison.

Here is the little Half Moon, with her towering poop, stumpy spars and strange rig, in which Hudson navigated the river three hundred years ago. Across the harbor is the reproduction of the Clermont, capable at the best of steaming seven miles an hour, with her uncovered paddle wheels in striking dissimilarity with the great turbine liner Lusitania which came in this morning.

British War Monster.

Lying outside Sandy Hook bar with three other British war vessels, was the splendid British battleship Inflexible, one of the heaviest hitting, fastest and most costly of the British navy.

Four German cruisers, the Victoria Luise, Hertha, Dresden and Bremen, representing the navy with which the German emperor is bidding for the supremacy of the seas, came majestically up the harbor this morning amid salutes from the batteries which they returned gun for gun, and took their places in the long column of American, French and Mexican ships already at anchor in the Hudson.

The Inflexible, with Admiral Sir Edward Hobart Seymour in command, joined the other British ships off Sandy Hook this morning an anchored there at the head of the British column until 10:15 o'clock, when they started up the bay. This ship, her splendid armament and high speed is regarded as one of the most interesting sights of the great assemblage and with her arrival the gathering of the fleets would be complete, for the harbor was already dotted with beautiful steam yachts in readiness for the naval parade tomorrow when the Half Moon and the Clermont will be escorted around the harbor and up the Hudson river to be saluted by the warships anchored there.

Air Craft on Land.

Over on the flat land recently added to Governor's Island two plain wooden structures marked the housing of the latest and most remarkable development of the aviators—the aeroplanes of the Wright brothers and Gleen H. Curtiss. Mr. Curtiss, however, was in Hammondsport, N. Y., assembling his aeroplane.

Wilbur Wright was hard at work on his flyer in the Governor's Island shed preparing for a possible flight tomorrow. Further up town and in the outskirts of the city dirigible balloons were being made ready to attempt flights about the city and perhaps up the Hudson river next week. In the city itself the fever of preparation for the ceremonies beginning tomorrow was at its height. Every train swelled the number of visitors from all over the country.

Noisy Demonstration.

The arrival of the German warships at the naval anchorage in Hudson river was the signal for a noisy demonstration of welcome from the French and American squadrons.

Kansas City Woman Confesses She Has Committed Bigamy Four Times.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 24.—When he found marriage certificates in his wife's trunk, Frederick Chapman, of this city, who believed he had married an unsophisticated country girl, investigated further and discovered what he considered evidence that Mrs. Chapman had not been divorced from her last husband.

Chapman confronted his wife with the certificates and she confessed to previous alliances. He then preferred a charge of bigamy against her and she was arrested last night. She is held for trial in the criminal court.

According to an alleged confession to the prosecuting attorney Mrs. Chapman admitted having been married to five men besides Chapman and said she had deserted each of them. Her first husband was Frank Ritter, whom she met in Paoli, Kan., ten years ago. Another was James Chaney, of Butler, Mo. Martin Wheeler, of Jasper county, Mo., was the third. Her two other husbands were Kansas City men.

PROTESTANTS DO NOT LIKE PLANS

Object to President Taft at Sunday Services in Mormon Temple.

MAY ONLY GO TO ORGAN RECITAL

Presidential Party Making Its Way to the Capital of Mormondom.

Helper, Utah, Sept. 24.—Still in pursuit of the setting sun President Taft's journey brought him into Utah today to be welcomed by the governor, the senators and representatives in congress, and a committee of citizens who came from Salt Lake City in a special car which was attached here to the Taft special train. The president's first stop will be at Provo, a short distance east of Salt Lake City. In Provo he will spend fifteen minutes. He will arrive in Salt Lake City at 4:30 to remain until Sunday noon.

Word has come indirectly to the president that a protest has been made by a number of Protestant ministers against the plan to have the president make an address in the Mormon tabernacle Sunday morning. It is said that the Protestant ministers believe he should go to a Mormon church on Sunday. It is possible the matter may be arranged by having the president make his address in the tabernacle at the time of the organ recital Saturday morning, although the matter is still in the hands of the Salt Lake City committee. C. S. Schlacks, vice president and general manager of the Denver and Rio Grande system, attached his own car to the president's train at Denver and will go through with him to Salt Lake City.

When the president left Grand Junction early this morning the president bade farewell to a picturesque escort of thirty-two Colorado sheriffs. He paid the sheriffs a very high compliment, and declared to one of his audiences yesterday that the friendship of the sheriff is always a good thing to cultivate.

GETTING READY IN SALT LAKE.

Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 24.—Tentative arrangements for the reception and entertainment of President Taft, who is scheduled to arrive in Salt Lake City at 3 o'clock this afternoon, have undergone some modifications. The original program embraced an address by the president at the Mormon tabernacle and a review of school children of Salt Lake on Sunday.

The ministers of Salt Lake recently expressed in a formal resolution disapproval of this feature of the program.

More recent arrangements will permit the president to rest Sunday forenoon at his hotel until 11 o'clock at which time his special train is scheduled to leave for Ogden, Utah.

STRIKE DISORERS RENEWED.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 24.—Strike sympathizers today took advantage of a dense fog and made "sniping" attacks on street cars. Stones and other missiles were thrown but no great damage was done. Sheriff Bralley, of Douglas county, announced that he would not call upon the state militia for help in maintaining order but would double his force of deputies.

IGNITES A CHICAGO STREET HOUSE TO SEE IT BURN

Another Incendiary Blaze Among Properties of Pennsy Company.

Apparently for no other reason than to promote excitement, an unknown man set fire shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon to the frame structure at 222 Chicago street, owned by the Pennsylvania railroad company. The offender soon made his escape and if he viewed the excitement he desired to create, he did so unrecognized.

The burned building was practically valueless and was going to be razed along with others in that district in a short time. Though there were some chairs and another piece of furniture or two on the second floor, it is not believed the house had been occupied for some time. The blaze originated in a closet in the rear of the upper floor and soon communicated to the roof. The fire department was summoned and the laddies spent half an hour or so extinguishing the sparks that other damage might not follow.

The fire this afternoon is the fourth incendiary blaze along Chicago street within the past several weeks. All of them may have been started by the same person but officials are at a loss to determine the purpose of such fires unless it is for amusement.

STRANGLED BY LEON LING.

That is Coroner's Verdict in Case of Elsie Siegel.

New York, Sept. 24.—Elsie Sigel, the young missionary to Chinese of this city, was strangled to death by Leon Ling, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury rendered today. With the police of the world hunting for Ling since the girl was murdered on June 10, the formal announcement of the cause of her death has been delayed by the chemist's examination of the body.

The coroner has discharged Chong Sing, the witness who swore that on the morning of June 10 he saw Miss Sigel's body with a cord tied about the neck on Ling's bed, and later saw Ling put it in a trunk.

W. J. Hess will go to Angola tomorrow to conduct a civil service examination for clerk and carrier in the Angola postoffice. There are said to be about thirty applicants for the two places to be filled when Angola gets free delivery of mail November 1.

DEATH LIST OF THE GULF COAST IS GROWING

Total May Reach 150 When Complete Reports are Brought In.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 24.—Belated reports today of the death and destruction from Monday's hurricane in Louisiana and Mississippi show further loss of life and property. The list of dead is now over one hundred. With little hope that a number of others reported missing escaped, the total may reach 150.

News of fifteen additional deaths along the waterways between Morgan City, La., and the gulf and on the adjacent coast has been received. Nearly all of these were fishermen caught in small craft by the storm.

Pathetic Incidents.

Stories brought here by persons arriving from the stricken districts reveal many pathetic and unusual oc-

NEIGHBOR MARS IS SOME INTIMATE THIS DAY

Is 15,000,000 Miles Nearer Earth Than for Fifteen Years.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Nearer the earth by fifteen million miles than it has been for fifteen years, the planet Mars today is the object of immense interest to the astronomers throughout the world, particularly at the United States naval observatory here. Its average distance from the earth is fifty million miles. Its distance from the earth today was only 35,000,000 miles. With this proximity, interest in the planet which is always keen, will become even among those who cannot claim to be students of astronomy, all the keener, on account of the probability that new discoveries concerning matters martian will be made.

MORE INDICTMENTS IN CHICAGO JURY CORRUPTION

Jury Official, Alderman "Hinky Dink" and One More are Charged.

Chicago, Sept. 24. — Indictments charging conspiracy were returned by the grand jury today against John J. Holland, secretary of the jury commissioners; William J. Rayburn, a real estate dealer, and Nicholas Martin, secretary to Alderman "Hinky Dink" Kenna.

The indictment contains fourteen counts, ten charging conspiracy to defeat public justice and corrupt the jury lists, and four charging the falsification of public records.

Bonds aggregating $75,000, under which the accused men have been at liberty, has disappeared. The papers were in Judge McEwen's desk and State's Attorney Wayman admitted today that this receptacle had been broken into and the bonds stolen. Two women are said to be concerned in the theft.

Capiases for the rearrest of Holland, Rayburn and Martin were issued this afternoon.

SLAYER OF SIX ESCAPES.

Bluefield, W. Va., Sept. 24.—Notwithstanding the vigilance maintained during the night by the body of armed citizens who stood guard over the home at Hurley, Va., of Silas Blankenship, who with his two sons is suspected of killing "Aunt Betty" Justis, her son-in-law and daughter and their three children, Blankenship managed to make his escape.

KADUIES BANQUET.

The thirty-five members of the Kaduie club enthusiastically gathered about the festive bord arranged last night in their rooms in the Minuet building and after partakingof an excellent four-course luncheon, spent several hours in listening to remarks from almost every member. Dr. J. E. McArdle as toastmaster, was one of the hits of the evening, and other entertaining features were the dances and stories from Will Grimes and the humorous remarks from Herman Romberg and Joseph DeWald.

WILL GIVE AN EXHIBITION.

Professor Lewis, who styles himself the champion finger billiardist of the world, has been engaged for an exhibition at the Colonial billiard parlors tomorrow evening beginning at 8 o'clock. He will play cushion caroms for seventy-five points and then engage with four of the best local players for 100 points against 50. He will conclude the exhibition by playing billiards with his nose.

POLAR HONOR IS FIRST IN CONCERN

Peary Will Not Discuss Story He is to Resign from the Navy.

WILL HAVE IT OUT WITH COOK FIRST

Report Scouted Because He Can Retire in Two More Years on Pay.

Portland, Maine, Sept. 24.—Commander Peary and his family spent the morning at the Falmouth hotel. The small launch kept at their summer home was brought to the city to take them to Eagle Island.

It is understood Mr. Peary will go to Bar Harbor Sunday or Monday for a conference there with General Thomas H. Hubbard, president of the Peary Arctic club, to whom he consigned important papers yesterday bearing on the Cook-Peary controversy.

"I have authorized no one to make any statement of that kind," said Commander Peary today when shown the dispatch sent from Washington last night intimating that he will resign from the navy and devote the remainder of his days lecturing and writing. He declined to answer whether he had any intention of resignation, declaring that he will take cognizance of no side issues until the main question of who first discovered the north pole has been settled.

FRIENDS SCOUT THE STORY.

Can Retire in Two Years Upon Pay of His Rank.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Some of the closest friends in the navy department of Commander Peary view as gratuitous the report that the polar explorer will resign soon from the navy, where he holds the position of civil engineer in the yards and docks bureau. Disbelief in the talk of Commander Peary's resignation is said to be due partially to the fact that he will be able to retire with pay two year's from October 26, 1909. On that day he will have concluded a service of thirty years.

PEARY'S PROOFS WILL BE EARLY

Commander Will Submit Controversy Data in Few Days.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 24.—Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard, president of the Peary Arctic club, talked yesterday at Bangor with Commander Robert E. Peary and returned here last night with some of the data and records which are to be used to maintain the position of the explorer in the Cook controversy. These records will be carefully considered within the next few days and Gen. Hubbard and Commander Peary will confer here either Sunday or Monday. This consultation may result in an announcement making public any information in the possession of Commander Peary concerning Dr. Cook.

Peary has placed his case in Gen. Hubbard's hands and a meeting of the officers of the Peary Arctic club will be called at the earliest possible moment. This meeting will be held in New York.

This action will be taken because Gen. Hubbard believes that Commander Peary's interests will benefit by an early submission of his records and observations of the trip to the pole.

"Concerning Dr. Cook," said Gen.

CALMLY AWAIT CRACK OF DOOM

Fanatics in Massachusetts Gathered for the End of World Today.

DID NOT FORGET TO TAKE COLLECTION

Thunderstorm Caused the Faithful to Think End Had Come.

West Duxbury, Mass., Sept. 24.—Inspired by the conviction that today would bring the end of the world, the 300 and more members of the Latter Reign of the Apostolic church, or Triune Immersionists, as they prefer to be called, assembled about their place of worship early in the forenoon to await the destruction and purification of the world by fire, in fulfillment of their own prophesy.

In contrast with recent proceedings, when noisy revival services have been carried on far into the night, last night passed almost in silence, as the rain fell upon the tents in which those who have come here from far and near are sheltered, in fact by some the gathering of heavy clouds at sunset last night was declared to be a "sign" and the heavy downpour of the night an "omen" consistent with their expectations.

Dismal Day for the End.

The morning was dismal. The sky was heavy with clouds and the air sultry and oppressive. The snowy whitness of the little wooden chapel at "Ashdad," as the members call the community, was sharply outlined against the dull back ground of clouds and mist. In this chapel for the past week services have been held, the keynote of which has been a frenzied exhortation to those who were without the pale to repent and be prepared for the expected cataclysm and yesterday afternoon eighteen converts were baptized in a nearby pound. Throughout the meetings almost unprecedented enthusiasm and fervor have been manifested. Those participating come from every section of New England, while some have journeyed from as far as Virginia.

Thought It Had Come.

As the appointed time drew near the believers filled the chapel and devoted their energies to the singing of hymns. Shortly before 10 o'clock the skies darkened and those who had been watching for a sign appeared convinced that the millenium was at hand. Ten o'clock came, but the sky brightened and the millineum, in the opinion of the believers, was apparently postponed for a brief period of time.

It was explained that a revelation which was made to one of their number last night indicated that the destruction was to be deferred until some time during the twenty-four hours beginning at 6 o'clock this evening. The faithful still continued confident that their prophesies would be fulfilled and they spent the remainder of the forenoon praying and singing hymns. There was very little comment when the hour designated for the finality of earthly things passed.

Went Into Executive Session.

As the forenoon passed the devout company decided for reasons not announced, to close the chapel and move across the road to "The Bethel," a large frame structure belonging to the society, there to await the end. All but "believers" were carefully excluded, the doors were closed and the curtains in the windows lowered. One of the leaders was overheard to say that if the "purification," or end of the world, did not occur before 6 p. m. tomorrow it would, in his opinion, be postponed for fifty years. Many of the believers expressed dissent from this

DYNAMITE OUTRAGE COMMITED NEAR TIPTON IND.

Lewis Van Briggle and His Wife Have Narrow Escape from Death.

Tipton, Ind., Sept. 24.—An explosion of dynamite that had been placed under the sleeping room of Lewis Van Briggle and his wife, split open their house early this morning, but did not seriously injure either of them.

Van Briggle, who is a farmer and manufacturer near here, lately was made defendant in a suit for damages in which alienation of the affections of a neighbor's wife was alleged. He was acquitted.

Bloodhounds brought from Noblesville later traced the persons that caused the explosion half a mile to a place where a rig had been hitched and there lost the trail.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Forecast for Indiana: Fair tonight with light frost in lowlands of north portion; Saturday fair and warmer.

Lower Michigan: Fair tonight with light frost; Saturday fair and warmer.

Ohio: Fair tonight with light frost in lowlands; Saturday fair and warmer.

Illinois: Fair tonight and Saturday; continued cool; probably frost in central and north portions tonight.

The Inflexible cautiously led the British fleet up the river through a gray mist and rain. Passing Fort Jay on Governor's Island the welcoming guns greeted the incoming Britains with an admiral's salute, which was responded to by the Inflexible and her consorts. Hundreds of vessels in the harbor took up the welcome and deep-voiced whistles of ocean liners joined in the welcome to the English ships. The docks and piers at the battery and along the river were crowded with observers who braved the rain to see the great Inflexible.

Scarcely was the British salute over than another bombardment was heard from Governor's Island as Admiral von Koester, of the German navy, stepped ashore to pay an official visit to General Leonard Wood. The admiral was accompanied by Lieut. Frederick H. Potet, of the United States battleship Connecticut, as the United States escort of honor, and by his own flag lieutenant on the Dutch cruiser Utrecht, which arrived here Sept. 9, and the steamer Nieuw Amsterdam took their places in the long line of the naval craft.

Half Moon Is Towed Out.

The Half Moon was towed from her berth at a Brooklyn dock this morning down the East river and harbor to the Kill von Kull, between Staten Island and the New Jersey shore, where she took her station in readiness for the start of the parade. The quaint little vessel was greeted by the whistles of every boat on the river and bay and thousands rushed to the windows and roofs of skyscrapers and cheered as she rounded the battery.

The grave of Robert Fulton in old Trinity churchyard was marked and decorated today by the Robert Fulton Monument association. At each corner of the slab was placed an enormous American flag.

At the grave gathered a number of relatives of the inventor.

The monument which the association proposes to erect in Fulton's memory will be on Riverside drive. Between One Hundred and Fourteenth and One Hundred and Sixteenth streets a great water gate will be built where distinguished guests of the state and nation may be fittingly received. It is expected that work will begin next year. The cost will be about $2,500,000.

BOTH ESCAPE INJURY.

Two Young Women Thrown from Buggy as Car Hits Vehicle.

Miss June Kohr and Miss M. E. Nicholson, two young ladies residing at Zanesville, were thrown from their buggy at Main and Fulton streets this morning when the vehicle in which they were driving was struck by a street car. Both young ladies escaped injury, but their buggy was somewhat damaged. The accident occurred as they attempted to cross the tracks in leaving Main street.

WILL REACH CITY HALL MONDAY.

Trans-Continental Auto Race to Be Started Tomorrow.

The racing automobile carrying the message from President Taft from Philadelphia to Seattle will arrive in Fort Wayne Monday evening, and the change of cars will be made here as originally scheduled.

The race, called off a week ago on account of the fatal accident which attended the start, will be again started tomorrow, using the original route and schedule, but a week later than at first planned. The enterprise is under the auspices of the Philadelphia Press.

statement. It is understood here that most of the persons who are confidently awaiting the millenium have disposed of all their worldly goods. All are said to have contributed liberally to the immersionists, for despite the belief that after the expected dissolution material things would be of no value, the contribution box was passed at all services.

Need of Cash a Secret.

The leaders decline to answer questions concerning the use to which the gifts are to be put.

At noon today in the vicinity of the chapel and the Bethel a long line of carriages and automobiles was strung along the road, having brought many spectators to witness the proceedings. A prominent Massachusetts clergyman and several nearby ministers were near the chapel during the day.

Some of the townspeople, displeased at the conditions developing, today started a movement to prevent a recurrence of the services.

HAS A MANIA FOR FLAMES.

Indianapolis Pyromaniac to Go to Prison for Criminal Insane.

Indianapolis, Sept. 24.—Otto Treuhann, who has admitted, according to the police, that he set fire to the McDougal Furniture company's plant where he was employed as night watchman, waived hearing in police court today, was bound over to the grand jury and is confined in the county jail. The police department probably will recommend that Treuhann be sent to the hospital for the criminal insane at Michigan City. The police regard him as insanely perverse. He is 24 years old.

He was arrested several years ago on a charge of incendiarism and at one time was a patient in the insane hospital in this city.

BAG SOME MORE ELEPHANTS.

Colonel Roosevelt and Kermit Have Good Luck Afield.

Nairoba, British East Africa, Sept. 24.—Ex-President Roosevelt, who is hunting in the Mwru districts has bagged two more elephants. Mr. Roosevelt will soon leave the Mwru territory for the Guaso Nytro river. Kermit Roosevelt has killed an elephant and a rhinoceros. He will shortly move over to Lake Hannigton, in Naivasha province and continue his hunting there.

CHAPLAIN RYAN THERE.

Washington, Ind., Sept. 24.—Rev. Daniel Ryan, of Shelburn, member of the Indiana Methodist conference, was brought forward this morning and presented as grand chaplain of the G. A. R. of the United States. He was received enthusiastically and the conference sang "America."

Rev. E. B. Rawls, who will retire at this conference as superintendent, reported one of the signs of larger advancement is the large emphasis now being placed on tithing. First church, Shelbyville, known as the best example of a tithing church, gives a total of $9,514 this year for benevolences. Mr. Rawls was presented with a purse of gold.

Hubbard, "I would say let him submit his records and data to some competent authority and let that authority draw its own conclusions from the notes and records taken in the field. Dr. Cook is reported as having said that he wants sixty days to go over his records to work out his conclusions to show that he has been to the pole.

"It is for the scientific tribunal—whether the Royal Geographical society of Denmark, or any other society—to say whether conclusions have been reached by consideration of the records. All that is wanted is the data and records made in the arctic. Competent authority will determine from them where Dr. Cook has been.

"I may say that Commander Peary will also be expected to turn over his data and observations for the same purpose. What proof Commander Peary has that Dr. Cook was not at the pole may be submitted later."

While Peary and Gen. Hubbard will discuss what societies the commander's data shall be laid before, the coast and geodetic survey at Washington will examine the records in an official capacity inasmuch as Commander Peary is an officer of the navy attached to that bureau at present.

currences. A four year old child was found lodged in the branches of a tree on the lower coast of Terre Bonne parish, having survived for three days without food or water. Two other children about the same age were found on a mound in the middle of the prairie between Terre Bonne bayou and Little Caillou. No other signs of human life were found in the vicinity.

A story is told of a man who, after searching for hours for his wife and four children, discovered their dead bodies. Without help in sight, alone, he dug their graves and buried them. One of the striking incidents of the relief work along the coast was the rescue of a family in a small boat in which a baby had been born but an hour before the relief steamer arrived.

WITHOUT FOOD TEN DAYS.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 24.—Short of coal and her crew without food for nearly ten days, the British steamer Tocantius, from Santos for New York, with a cargo of coffee, crept into port last night after a battle with the gulf hurricane. Saturday, night, according to the ship's master, the gale blew one hundred miles an hour. The steamer's decks were stripped of everything movable and salt water covered all stores aboard, ruining the food.

NINE BODIES WASHED ASHORE.

Gulfport, Miss., Sept. 24.—Nine bodies have been washed on the beach near here. They are all presumably fishermen and are supposed to have been in the marshes where the hurricane struck them.

DR. JOHN WITHEROW DEAD.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—Rev. John L. Witherow, pastor emeritus, and for many years pastor of Park Street church, died today at his home in Brookline at the age of 72 years. Witherow held pastorates in Abington, Pa., in Philadelphia, Chicago and Indianapolis.

SALOONS GOT MONEY AND WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

Mary Van Buskirk Seeks a Decree and Charges Cruel Treatment.

Charging that William E. Van-Buskirk spends all his earnings in saloons and keeps company with other women, Mary Van Buskirk has filed suit in the superior court asking a divorce. She says that he boasted to her of his association with a certain woman whose name is left blank in the complaint.

She charges that he wound up several years of cruel treatment by knocking her down and cutting her face and alleges that she left him on July 15, the day after his attack upon her, and has not lived with him since. It is also charged that by reason of excessive drinking he has not supported her since their marriage which occurred January 2, 1902. McAdams and Hartzell are attorneys.

Chased Her from Home.

Mable McCrea filed a divorce suit in the circuit court this afternoon against Thomas P. McCrea and secured a restraining order to prevent him from disposing of his property. She says that he has been cruel in a hundred different ways since their marriage on Feb. 27, 1907, and in addition to a decree she wants her maiden name of Baer restored. Phil B. Colerick filed the complaint.

Complaint is Withdrawn.

The divorce complaint filed by Nina Alderman against Harry B. Alderman was withdrawn from the files.

Car Lease is Recorded.

A lease was recorded in the county recorder's office today covering the new cars equipped and supplied to the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company. The lease covers a period of ten years and provides for the delivery of twenty-six single truck city cars, two double truck freight cars, four double truck trailers and four combination interurban passenger cars. The lease is what is known as a car trust agreement and covers the property until the payments are made.

SOME CHAT IN CITY POLITICS

The democratic sub-committee for the Tenth ward held a meeting last evening for organization, electing George Christen as president and Louis C. Bobilya as secretary. The ward organization has opened headquarters at 811 Buchanan street, and another meeting has been called for Friday evening, October 1. City Chairman Gandy and William Fruechtenicht, nominee for judge of the city court, addressed the gathering last evening.

* * *

A big attendance is expected at the first social meeting of the Jefferson club, to be held this evening at democratic headquarters. It will be a smoker, with informal addresses by a number of prominent democrats.

PLUNGES THROUGH TRESTLE.

Veteran Circus Advance Man Fatally Hurt While Walking Home.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 24.—Winfield E. Brewer, 64 years old, of this city, while returning from Hammond, where heattended a reunion of his old regiment, the Ninety-ninth Indiana fell through a trestle on the Pennsylvania road at Hobart yesterday, receiving injuries which will prove fatal. Brewer took the train for any destination he started for, but always walked home. He was for many years advance man for the P. T. Barnum and Adam Forepaugh shows.

THE DEATHS.

MOERING.

Miss Lillian Moering, 37 years of age, died at 6:20 o'clock Thursday evening at the family home, 604 Montgomery street, after an illness of several weeks from heart disease. Miss Moering was a member of St. John's Lutheran church and is survived by three sisters and a brother—the Misses Margaret, Minnie and Jennie Moering and Henry Moering, the latter residing in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Christ. Stahlhut is also a sister of the deceased. Following the funeral services to be announced later the remains will be placed in the receiving vault at Lindenwood.

MOORE.

Frank L. Moore, son of Mrs. Catherine Moore, 1816 Hoagland avenue, died Thursday afternoon from typhoid fever. The young man was an apprentice at the Wabash shops. His death is the third bereavement of the family within the past year, the father and another brother having died within that time.

Mr. Moore's age was 18 years, 9 months and 13 days. Funeral services Monday morning at 8:30 from the residence and at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's Catholic church.

MULLIGAN.

Norman Mulligan, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Mulligan, died at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of an uncle, Peter Collins, 707 West Superior street, at the age of seven months. Mrs. Mulligan will be remembered as formerly Miss Lizzie Sullivan.

HOFFMAN.

Edna Lucille Hoffman, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffman, 204 East Williams street, died at 9:10 o'clock this morning, aged seven weeks.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Lauer.—Funeral services of Nicholas Lauer, jr., will be held Monday morning at 8:30 from the residence, 2455 Gay street, and at 9 o'clock from St. Peter's Catholic church.

FUSION IS GIVEN A BLACK EYE BY THE REPUBLICANS

New Yorkers Name Ticket Headed by Bannard for Mayor.

New York, Sept. 24.—The republicans, going it by themselves, nominated this city ticket at 6:30 o'clock last evening at their convention in Carnegie hall:

For Mayor—Otto T. Bannard, of Manhattan.

For Controller—William A. Prendergast, of Brooklyn.

For President of the Board of Aldermen—John Purroy Mitchell, of Manhattan.

Mr. Mitchell gives the only tinge of non-partisanship to the ticket. He is an independent democrat.

Before naming this ticket, the republicans technically withdrew from the fusion conference, after a committee named by the convention had been closeted with the nominating committee of the fusion forces, minus the Hearst element, for two hours, going over the various candidates proposed. The withdrawal was necessary unless the republicans would agree to adjourn the convention to a later date.

Chairman Outerbridge, of the committee of 100 made it plain that the representatives of that body on the nominating committee of the fusion bodies could not speak for the entire committee of 100 and that a meeting of the full committee would have to be held before approval could be given to any ticket. It was impossible to get the committee together on such short notice and the republicans were unwilling to adjourn their convention.

Committee May Indorse Ticket.

In withdrawing from the fusion conference the republicans received assurance that a strong effort would be made to have the committee of 100 approve of their ticket at a meeting which, it is expected, will be held tomorrow. It is also their expectation that the other bodies which remained in the conference and were represented this afternoon will indorse it so that it will be virtually a fusion ticket.

The nominating committee of the fusion conference, though unable to agree on a candidate for mayor, already had decided upon Prendergast and Mitchell for the other places. This was before even the Hearst people withdrew.

In the final effort to select a candidate for the top of the ticket that would meet the views of all hands, which was made in the afternoon during the recess of the convention, the Republicans presented the names of Mr. Bannard and Job Hedges, while the committee of 100 representatives against brought up the name of Henry L. Stimson.

A VICTIM OF MELANCHOLIA.

New Jersey Girl Ends Life After Telling Strange Story.

Woodbury, N. J., Sept. 24.—Helen Brayton, aged 19 years, was found dead in the residence of her uncle with whom she made her home, under peculiar circumstances. The uncle, H. C. Brown, is on a gunning trip in Maine, and the aunt is on a visit in Atlantic City.

Three hours before the shooting Miss Brayton awakened her cousin, Harry Brown, 15 years old, and told him a strange man had been in her bed room. The boy searched the house and finding no intruder, returned to bed. Later the groans of the girl aroused him and he found her dead in bed with a bullet wound in the head. A revolver was found in the bed.

A coroner's inquest was held and a verdict was returned that the girl killed herself while suffering from melancholia.

CITY BREVITIES.

Cases of smallpox were reported today in the Waltemer family at 813 Walnut street and in the Lechler family next door. Both houses were placed under quarantine this afternoon.

Frank H. Cutshall, now manager of the interurban railway system at South Bend, returned to that city last evening after a business visit here.

Mrs. D. Petgen is in Decatur, Ind., where she went to attend the funeral of a cousin, Charles Colchin.

E. G. Trenkley is in New York on a business visit.

Mrs. Mary E. Wright, of 519 Lavina street, who has been very ill, is reported to be convalescent.

Mrs. Gottlieb Hitzemann, wife of the Broadway grocer, has gone to Minneapolis, Minn., to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Ed I. P. Staede, who is reported seriously ill. Mrs. Staede was formerly Miss Amanda Hall, and lived in this city before her marriage

Clem Ensley, 22 years of age, residing on Wagner street, fell from a Spy Run car as it rounded the corner of Superior and Calhoun streets Thursday evening and sustained some painful bruises. He was taken home in an ambulance, but physicians do not regard his condition as serious.

CUT CLAIM TO $1,000.

Referee Wood Trims Down Fee Asked by Attorneys.

Referee in Bankruptcy Sol A. Wood has recommended the allowance of $1,000 as attorney's fee to Quinton & Quinton, of Topeka, Kan., for legal services to the trustee in the Rollin Ellison bankruptcy case. The Kansas attorneys asked $5,000 for their services and backed up the claim with an imposing array of legal opinion from other sources as to the fairness of the demand.

Judge Anderson, in the federal court, has just made an allowance of $1,200 to W. J. Vesey, E. G. Hoffman and E. V. Emrick, as attorney's fee in the Monroeville Cooperage bankruptcy case.

WAS FORMER TEACHER HERE.

Mrs. Anton Doerfel Passes Away at Sandusky, Ohio.

Mrs. Charles Close and Mrs. Edward Close have gone to Sandusky, O., to attend the funeral of the former's sister, Mrs. Anton Doerfel, whose death occurred Tuesday.

Mrs. Doerfel, as Miss Marie Schrey, was some years ago a teacher in the schools in this city, removing to Sandusky at the time of her marriage to Mr. Doerfel.

SHORTSTOP OYLER BETTER.

Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—It is said at the Protestant hospital today that Andy Oyler, shortstop of the Minneapolis American association ball team, who is confined there as the result of being hit on the head with a pitched ball in Wednesday's double-header, had spent a very good night and that some improvement could be seen in his condition. Oyler had not regained his memory, however, and was still unable to recognize the faces of friends.

TESTS WILL BE DELAYED.

Explosion of Balloons Interferes With Meteorlogical Work.

Indianapolis, Sept. 24.—Government meteorological tests to be made here and at Omaha simultaneously have been delayed by the explosion of two of fifteen balloons imported from France especially for these experiments. Dr. W. P. Blair, who is in charge of the corps of experts from Mount Weather, Va., is in Omaha today and his assistants here have telegraphed him for instructions. The balloons were to have been sent aloft carrying registering instruments of different character.

MRS. VANDERBILT SILENT.

Wife of William K., Jr., Declines to Discuss Separation.

New York, Sept. 24.—Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, jr., with her son and daughter, William K. Vanderbilt III. and Miss Muriel Vanderbilt, returned to New York from abroad today on the Cunard liner Lusitania. Mrs. Vanderbilt when asked to make a statement concerning the recent report of her marital troubles, replied:

"I cannot say anything at this time. I have been so much in the public eye that I do not wish to make any statement."

Cures Eczema Quickly

New Discovery Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Skin Diseases.

Nothing in the history of medicine has ever approached the success of the marvelous skin remedy known as poslam, which, it is safe to say, has cured more cases of eczema and skin diseases than any remedy ever offered for these ills.

The success of poslam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a very small quantity applied to the skin stops itching immediately and cures chronic cases in two weeks. The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, crusted humors, scaly scalp and every form of itch, yield to it readily. Blemishes such as pimples, red noses, muddy and inflamed skin disappear almost immediately when poslam is applied, the complexion being cleared over night.

Every druggist keeps both the 50-cent size (for minor troubles) and the $2 jar, and either of these may be obtained in Fort Wayne at Meyer Bros. Co., as well as other reliable drug stores.

But no one is even asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining an experimental package which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request, by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

SON IS MAKING READY TO DON RAILROAD MANTLE OF FATHER.

Harriman Had Already Started His Prospective Heir at Foot of Transportation Ladder—Walter Eventually to Handle the Reins—Success is Predicted for 17-Year-Old Boy Who Has His Father's Traits.

Walter Averill Harriman, the eldest son of the dead railway king, today, at seventeen years of age, finds himself confronted with the absolute necessity of preparing to master the intricacies of railroading in order that a few years hence he may step in and seize the reigns of management that death took from the wed trained hands of his father.

Although the young man to whom will eventually fall the management of the billion dollar interests of his father is well educated and knows something of railroading, he readily admits that he is at present incapable of the management of the gigantic system of roads his father built up needs and that he must first learn the railroad business thoroughly before he attempts to direct them.

Realizing with characteristic keenness of perception that his days of activity were drawing to a speedy close, and that it would be necessary for his elder son to prepare to shoulder the burdens death would place on him, Mr. Harriman some months ago started the boy off on a career of railroading, sending him west first, to aid the surveyors, and later to enter the shops, and then to run a locomotive. Mr. Harriman had planned to have his son work in each branch until he reached the top.

Planned Son's Future.

Young Harriman was at work in the west when the news of his father's serious illness reached him, together with a hurry call to the bedside of his father. Mr. Harriman loved Walter greatly and hoped to live to see the day when his boy would be as great an organizer and railroad man as himself. He had hoped that his ocean to ocean railroad route would be carried through and improved by Walter and his plans for a great system circling the entire nation be put in realization.

Walter Harriman has many of the characteristics of his father. He is not boastful, he is thoughtful, not talkative and a good listener. He is remarkably decisive, much as his father was. He makes up his mind quickly and acts accordingly. He does not revel in the luxury that some might think his fortune would lead him into. He thinks no more of riding in the ordinary passenger coach, or smoker, of a railroad than the hardened commuter does.

WALTER AVERILL HARRIMAN.

He is never obtrusive. His quietness and reserve are illustrated in the fact that few of the conductors on the trains that he frequently used from Jersey City to Arden were aware of his identity. One day, in his hurry to get a train, he failed to secure a ticket. He explained to the conductor that he did not have any cash handy and therefore could not pay his fare. The ticket agent, he explained, would have trusted him for the ticket, as he was the son of Mr. Harriman. The conductor was surprised ,bowed deferentially and said that he, too, would trust him. From that incident young Harriman became known to some of the conductors.

Young Harriman, in appearance, is like other youths of his age. He is clear eyed, well browned by the sun and has a healthy appearance. He weighs about 130 pounds and is five feet seven inches tall.

Preferably, he wears blue serge, white ties and socks of intermingled shades. In summer he wears a Panama hat that he keeps well down over his forehead. He never displays much jewelry. A stickpin, the gift of one of his relatives, is about all in the jewelry line that he wears.

Now that young Harriman is face to face with the business affairs of his father, he contemplates plunging into the science of railroading as soon as the sorrow of his bereavement loses its intensity. He expects that in a few years he will be fully conversant with the affairs and capable of filling important posts.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. F. E. Davidson, Rutland, Vt.

Permitted Compromise. International Bible Lesson for Sept. 26, 1909.—(1 Cor. 10: 22-33.)

The golden text for this lesson is as follows: "Let every one of us please his neighbor for his good to edification." This is supposed to be a temperance lesson in the scheme of the international committee, and the golden text is well chosen as a keynote, though it is doubtful if its bearing will be recognized at first. Temperance, to most people means total abstinence from intoxicating drinks as a beverage and prohibition of the manufacture, sale, and use of the same by the government. But there is another large class of people who declare, with the dictionary, that temperance means the moderate use of anything, and that neither the Bible, medical science or human history support the total abstinence view. Both parties do agree that the abuse of intoxicants is a curse, always has been and always will be, and are a unit in the conviction that the use and sale should be restricted to the lowest possible point. There is a third class which stands for swinish gratification of all bodily appetite, but they are a small minority of society and need not be considered in this connection.

Radicals and Conservatives.

Here then, are the two parties, the radicals and the conservatives. The one class would banish alcohol from the face of the earth, knock in the head of every barrel, break every bottle, and destroy every form of intoxicant, used as a beverage, by every human being on this planet. The other class, would not make men virtuous by removing the temptation, but would educate, instruct and develop a race of men who would move as undisturbed and unharmed amid spirituous temptations as Daniel in the Lion's den. Both parties desire the same end. How can it be reached?

Certainly not by maintaining a pitched battle among themselves. Much of modern so-called temperance work is verbal abuse of the other side. Instead of bombarding the common enemy, the temperance agitators train their guns upon those who do not wear their uniform. The conservative calls the radical hot-headed, impracticable, fanatical. He is a disturber of the peace, a crank, a lunatic, a one-idea man. And the radical retorts in kind that the conservative is an old fogy, behind the times, gone to seed, obsolete, out of date, a drag on the wheels of progress, a heartless back number. We hear this from pulpit and platform, we read it in paper and magazine—two forces ostensibly bent on righteousness, deliberately bombarding each other.

If the practical discontinuance of the evils of intemperance is the thing aimed at, why not bring to the campaign every available force. Why not use Love, and Light and Law against the foe, instead of putting love and law at loggerheads, each crying out against the other as a failure, and neither doing anything to fight the curse.

Striking Illustration.

A recent incident is a case in point. A temperance orator known throughout the country as a radical prohibitionist has made a public announcement that henceforth instead of casting his influence in one direction, and in one direction only, he proposes to join hands with every man no matter how far along he may be in his conception of civic righteousness, who is honestly desirous of curtailing the rum power. He made the point very clear that he will not compromise with the enemy but he will compromise with the brethren. And he uses this illustration. When the sailor is out on the high seas with deep water under him, and no obstructions anywhere he can sail as he pleases, but when he is trying to make the harbor, in company with all sorts of craft headed for the same port, and there are reefs and shoals in addition, it is absolutely necessary to yield to others, to sheer off in this direction, and even back up possibly at times in order that he, and all his fellow voyagers may safely make the port. That is altogether a different spirit than hoisting the black flag, compelling every disagreeing captive to walk the plank, insisting that my way, is the only way, and that all who dare to think differently are knaves or imbeciles. In other words, instead of antagonizing he proposes to compromise with those who now see things from a different angle than his, with the idea that possibly he himself may come to see that wisdom will not die with him, and that some other method if it does not succeed, may at least have such a fair trial that everybody will be satisfied of its inefficiency. Compromise! Not with the enemy, but with the brethren, that at least is a plan worth considering. Is not such compromise permitted?

CASE OF CAPTAIN BARTLETT.

There is much that is pathetic in the simple narrative of Captain Robert Bartlett, skipper of Commander Robert E. Peary's arctic ship, the Roosevelt. Captain Bartlett wanted to go on with the explorer to the pole, but was summarily turned back when the object of the perilous quest was within striking distance. Let his own words supply a brief bit of the narrative:

"I really didn't think I would have to go back until I had reached the eighty-eighth parallel. The commander then said I must go back—that he had decided to take Matt Henson.

"I—well, it was a bitter disappointment. I got up early the next morning while the rest were asleep and started north alone. I don't know, perhaps I cried a little. I guess, perhaps, I was just a little crazy then. I thought that perhaps I could walk on the rest of the way alone. It seemed so near.

"Here I had come thousands of miles, and it was only a little over a hundred more to the pole.

"Commodore Peary figured on five marches more, and it seemed as if I could make it alone, even if I didn't have any dogs or food or anything.

"I felt so strong I went along for five miles or so, and then I came to my senses and knew I must go back.

"They were up at the camp then and getting ready to start. Never mind whether there were any words or not. I told the commander if I was going to be any hindrance and perhaps make a failure out of it I would turn around and go back. He said I must go, so I had to do it. But my mind had been set on it for so long I had rather die than give it up then."

And so brave Bob Bartlett, true to duty, obedient to the harsh dictum of an obdurate superior, turned back. Here was this hardy and intrepid man who had gone, he says, thousands of miles, had endured privation and suffering and had encountered the multiplied perils of the frozen north to make the expedition a success, commanded to about face, turn his back on the culmination of an historic adventure and leave unfulfilled a glorious ambition that burned as fiercely in his own heart as in Peary's. Within a few miles of that unmarked, undimensioned spot in a vast field of icy desolation that had been for centuries the lure of the world's boldness and adventure, the mysterious goal of high emprise, the unreached end of a thousand perilous and corpse-strewn paths, Captain Bartlett surrendered to his inexorable chief the glory of a conquest not to be shared even with a man whose intrepid soul wept in anguish that it should be denied him to place his feet on the top of the world. It is a story to kindle sympathy. Bob Bartlett had earned the right at least to follow his chief to the hard-won goal.

THE MAN AND THE OATH.

At the beginning of the New Year the man elected mayor in November will stand with hand uplifted and call upon Almighty God to witness his oath to enforce the laws of the state of Indiana and the ordinances of this city. That oath will not differentiate in the character of its obligations nor specify what laws. It will not select certain laws for enforcement nor certain statutes for suspension. It will not permit the new mayor to select a particular class of men in business for special and illegal indulgences nor to grant immunity to offenders. The mayor will solemnly swear to enforce the laws.

For many years it has been the practice of mayors in this city to disregard the obligations of that oath. The people are tired of that sort of recreancy to sworn duty. In the next mayor they want a man who will not forswear himself upon his induction into the high office of the mayoralty. In the abstract it may look like putting aspersion upon the integrity of a candidate to demand that he declare the principles of his candidacy while yet the people have a chance to pass judgment upon him. But the history of the administration of the mayor's office in this city is ample warrant for the people's demand for a specific pledge from mayoralty candidates upon the question of law enforcement. If a candidate fully purposes in the event of election to fulfill the obligations of his oath he need have no reluctance to say so. The citizens whose votes he solicits have an unquestionable right to know where he stands. No one can challenge the right of the voter to know the character and purpose of the man who seeks to administer the citizen's relation to government.

So far there has been no specific, straightforward, unequivocal declaration from either candidate for mayor of Fort Wayne. There is yet time to hear from them and it is to be hoped that in due course each will take occasion to make a frank and unevasive response to the great public solicitude for assurance that this city is to have an administration of the law in its spirit and in its letter. Failing that, the conscientious voter who wants his ballot to be the expression of good citizenship and a righteous civic spirit will take what measures he can to inform himself. We believe, however, that before the campaign has progressed much farther the candidates for mayor will appreciate the wisdom of taking the public into their confidence. There is small use for the man aspiring to public service who deliberates long upon an intent to take a perjured oath when he enfolds himself in the mantle of official authority and assumes the burden of public duty.

Out in Colorado President Taft gave an almost categorical pledge that committed him to execution of the Roosevelt policies. The promise was made with special reference to the conservation ideas of his strenuous predecessor and nothing that has come from the new president's lips gave a better sound. President Taft qualifies so much as to say that what is done must be according to law, but seems to think that the law affords plenty of latitude. That, of course, is a matter of opinion, and opinion will be colored by the character of interest. Land grabbers, timber looters, interests that covet possession and control of the great water power advantages, ravishers of mineral bearing areas and the whole predatory army of the selfish will look at it from one point of view, while the great body of the public will gaze upon it from another. The public must be first in the concern of the executive and of the law.

Court has opened the way for inaugurating the improvement of Calhoun street. Next question is up to the board of works for decision. Can the work be done between now and cold weather the way it ought to be done? If not, as probably it cannot, the next thing to do is to get the holes filled up with anything that will hold for a few months.

Officialdom appears to find it good policy to snub Dr. Cook. Again it's a case of a man with nobody for him but all the people.

Maybe a half hour of frank and friendly conversation between Dr. Cook and Commander Peary would relieve the tension a bit and clear away some of the smoke of conflict. Great opportunity here for matchmakers to bring together the two best men in their class.

Russia, stirred by discovery of the pole, purposes to discover a practical "northwest passage" whereby to shorten the distance to Vladivostok. What's the matter now—haven't they yet got everybody back from Manchuria?

A NEW OCCUPATION

Robert Hubbard Writes in Appreciation of John Davey, Who Recently Lectured in Fort Wayne.

(Elbert Hubbard in New York American)

For two hundred years the destruction of trees was the chief intent of man in America. And so recklessly and completely did axe and torch do their work that in certain sections millions of acres have been rendered uninhabitable.

These waste places are called, with fitting phrase, "slashings."

The entire racial instinct has been one of enmity, or at least indifference, toward the tree.

I can well remember when men and boys would cut down some mighty oak, or beautiful black walnut tree, that had been over two hundred years in growing, just to catch an innocent possum that had taken refuge in its branches.

It is a great man who can introduce us to the divinities that surround us, and make us realize our sacred relationships. I met such a man some time ago.

His life and work appealed to me so that I grew suspicious of myself and refused to write of him until I knew him better.

This man is John Davey. He is sixty years old, but looks forty, and at times acts twenty.

John Davey is the Tree Man, or the Tree Doctor, or the Father of Tree Surgery. I like to call him the Tree's Brother. He doctors trees, and he has several hundred athletic, brainy boys helping him. No man I ever saw so mixed in with the elements—no man I ever knew was so blended with the leaves—no man I ever knew possessed such a sympathy for waving, swaying saplings as this man. His life is all bound up in trees and the birds that live in their branches.

John Davey does not remember a time when he was not familiar with trees. He was born in England, of parents well-to-do, of the middle class. His father was a farmer, with a taste for botany and tree culture.

Little John climbed trees before he wore trousers, and his father explained to him how the sap in the tree climbed, too. It was moved by the attractive power of the sun—it had a great desire to mount, move and climb. The sap was picked up by the thousands of tiny rootlets in the soil and sent aloft, up through the pores nearest the bark. This sap went clear to the leaves.

In fact, it first formed the leaves, and then, flowing through them in a network of little arteries, was oxygenized and returned, just under the bark, back to the little rootlets. There is no life without oxygen, either vegetable or animal life. The leaves are the lungs of the tree: the tree breathes through its leaves.

And there are some things which his father taught John Davey—things which many grown-ups do not yet know.

He discovered that many trees, especially along highways, were wounded by horses gnawing them or wagons running against them. And in such cases nature would put forth a strong effort to cover over the wounded places with bark. Often she would succeed, and sometimes it would happen that the bark would partially grow over a defective place and leave a spot of decay on the inside of the tree. The water would then gather there and the decay would increase until the tree would become hollow at the core. A hollow tree is always a weak tree, and when the storms come such are often laid low.

Now, all decay is a form of life. A rotting tree will contain ants, bugs, spiders and beetles enough to amuse an entomologist for a month. Often there are mice, squirrels and owls besides. Grant Allen estimated that he could find and classify a hundred forms of animal life in a hollow tree, all busy disintegrating the tall monarch of the forest.

Now, all decay in a live tree takes a considerable portion of the tree's strength to fight.

Whenever you see a tree with dead branches, it means there is an imperfect circulation. Either the soil is deprived of moisture and nutriment or that tree has decayed spots in it somewhere.

John Davey worked out the science of tree surgery alone. Before his day no one had ever given the subject more than a desultory notice. All the tree surgery in America traces a pedigree to this one man, five feet six, weight one hundred and thirty in the shade.

It was Davey who first told us that trees often get wounded, become sick, and the decayed spots in their roots, trunks or branches increase.

Then the tree becomes unsightly and is condemned and cut down, or else the winds would lay it low.

About thirty years ago Davey discovered that if you could thoroughly clean out a decayed spot, fill the cavity with cement and cap it over so as to keep out the wet, the tree would recover completely from the wound and often heal over the scar.

John Davey takes the tree which you can't spare—the old landmark, which the deeds are drawn from—the tree that has watched over the destinies of two, three or perhaps half a dozen generations—and by a thorough, loving and skilled treatment gives it a new lease of life.

Up on the Roycroft farm we had a butternut tree that stood out alone in the field. Uncle Billy Bushnell, now over eighty years of age, told me that he used to pick butternuts off that tree in his boyhood. And, while Uncle Billy at times mistakes his imagination for memory, in this case there is no doubt that he tells the truth. He can remember how for over seventy years boys would climb that tree for nuts. But for the past ten years there were many dead branches in the old butternut. We thought it was dying and it really became an unsightly and pathetic figure. So one day I told one of the boys to go and get the crosscut saw and cut the tree down.

He couldn't find the saw, and the next day Al Baba sent the young fellow to work in the bindery. So the tree was saved, which shows the beauty of not always carrying the message to Garcia, and doing a thing when you are told.

It was only a week after that that John Davey came along. He was looking at our trees. His eye fell on the old patriarch, with its appealing dead branches.

"Let me try my hand on that one," he asked.

We knew he could not do it—he knew he could.

We let him have his way. His first move was to send two Daveyites up into that tree with orders to cut out all the dead limbs.

When this was done we saw there was considerable of green left. It took nearly a thousand pounds of cement and three square yards of zinc. But the tree, as if grateful for being relieved of the great mass of dead matter, is sending forth great clusters of green twigs and new branches.

There was an overgrown family of squirrels in the tree, and, as they were driven out of house and home, we cut off several butts of hollow branches and made them artificial houses, which we hid here and there away up amid the limbs. And now the squirrels are happy and the tree is happy in its green old age. It will probably live for another hundred years. Long after John Davey and I have turned to dust this tree will spread out its arms in blessing.

FORT WAYNE, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1909.

Operation Difficulties

When you have been impatient because a street car was not at your corner just as you expected it, have you ever stopped to think of the NINEY-FIVE TIMES OUT OF ONE HUNDRED that the car has been there for you, and have you given any credit for it?

Several careful counts of cars passing certain points have shown our average of city cars on time to be very near 95 per cent.

And what about the other 5 per cent? Can you not guess the first and greatest cause? Viz:

GRADE CROSSINGS with steam railroad tracks. We have NINE of them, and very few cars get across the Calhoun Street crossing without being delayed.

Another reason: Narrow streets and lack of consideration by drivers of trucks. Everyone, doubtless, has noticed many cases of teamsters deliberately driving along in front of the car without any attempt to clear the track, while the motorman wears out his gong trying to get the driver to pull out of the road.

Other delays are caused by failure of equipment, and is it a wonder that equipment does fail, operating continuously over one hundred and fifty (150) miles each day, stopping and starting, over railroad crossing and special work? Street cars are like automobiles—they will give out at times.

Again, we are blamed for cars off of time many times by people who have missed cars because of THEIR OWN WATCHES OR CLOCKS being wrong.

So hereafter when necessary to wait for a while for a car we ask your patient consideration of some of the difficulties of operation and credit for the many times we have accommodated you.

IN THE CITY'S CHURCHES

NEXT TWO WEEKS TO BE BUSY ONES IN M. E. CIRCLES

Missionary Convention in Fort Wayne District—Church News.

A season of unusual activity will be rounded out by ministers and laymen in the Fort Wayne district, North Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, during the next two weeks. To the casual observer the announcement of the one and two day missionary conventions that are held annually at this period of the year may seem to indicate little or no unusual amount of labor, but to the participants in these conventions the sessions are busy ones and full of import.

The first week of the missionary convention will be opened next Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Dr. Cyrus U. Wade, district superintendent, presiding. Speakers for the occasion will be Rev. W. W. Martin, Rev. G. H. Meyers, Rev. J. B. Cook and the pastor, Rev. J. K. Cecil. Tuesday evening addresses will be delivered by W. B. Freeland, also Rev. C. Claude Travis, pastor of Wayne street M. E. church. The third session will occur Wednesday morning, for which Rev. M. S. Marble, Rev. Sherman Powell, Rev. Loren M. Edwards and Rev. Somerville Light are scheduled as speakers. The two days' program in its entirety has already appeared. One day conventions will be given, beginning Monday, October 4, and continuing until Friday, Oct. 8, inclusive. To facilitate matters the Fort Wayne district has been divided into seven divisions designated alphabetically, each containing five charges, at which the conventions will be held.

Division "D," of which Rev. J. K. Cecil, pastor of the First M. E. church, is chairman, will have one day conventions as follows: Coesse, Oct. 4; Simpson and Fort Wayne circuit, Oct. 5; Wayne street church, Oct. 6; First M. E. church, Oct. 7; Trinity and St. Paul's church, Oct. 8. An address on "The Black Peril: Christian Schools and Churches the Solution of the Problem," will be delivered by Rev. C. Claude Travis, of Wayne street church on Oct. 8, at Bobo, Ind., which is in division "D."

The standing of the Fort Wayne district for last year as compared with the other districts in the conference, will be seen in the following tabulation. This is for missions and church extension only:

	Rate per Member.	Rank.
Fort Wayne District	$0.80	1
Muncie District	0.70	2
Wabash District	0.60	3
Goshen District	0.57	4
Richmond District	0.55	5
Logansport District	0.50	6

Delegates to the one and two day missionary conventions will include all presidents, vice presidents, secretaries and treasurers of the Woman's Foreign and Woman's Home Missionary auxiliaries; presidents, vice presidents, secretaries and treasurers of all Young People's Missionary societies; presidents and officers of Sunday School Missionary societies; presidents and all officers of Epworth League chapters; superintendents and presidents of Junior Leagues and all its officers; superintendents, officers and teachers of the Sunday schools; presidents and secretaries of Men's Brotherhoods; local preachers and exhorters.

The conventions as scheduled are to be held in the interest of the benevolences of the Methodist Episcopal church. The aim is to inspire pastors and people to greater zeal and effort; to a larger and more enthusiastic giving and to prepare the way for the greater outpourings of the Holy Spirit in the revival campaign of the fall and winter.

SPREADING THE BIBLE.

Local Christian Commercial Traveling Men Do Good Work.

The Fort Wayne Gideons, or United Commercial Travelers, not content with the placing of Bibles in all of the guest rooms of the local hotels, have undertaken the plan of placing the Book of Books in the hotels of adjoining cities. Immense numbers have been purchased and placed and the advocates propose to continue the good work. The books are bound in black, are of a neat, attractive appearance and have been made also with a view to durability.

Together with each copy of the Bible is furnished a list of readings and references for the benefit of the knight of the grip who wants to peruse a few lines of spiritual consolation before retiring. The following is the list:

IF

You are lonesome, read 1 Cor. 16; Luke 15.

Trade is over, read, Ps. 37: 4-5.

Worldly things allure you, read, 1 Cor. 7-1 to 17. Romans 6:12-14.

You are self-centered and self-righteous, read, Rom. 2: Chron. 6:36.

You are in trouble, read John 14, (Promise chapter).

You are skeptical, read John 5:39-46.

You are tired of your sin, read The seeking sinner, Luke 18:35-43.

Wishing you God's richest blessings in the reading of these sacred pages is the prayer of your "Fellow travelers."

REV. A. B. YOUNG HONORED.

Catholic Pastor at Garrett Receives Auto and Chauffeur Outfit.

Rev. August B. Young, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's Catholic church, Garrett, Ind., has been the recipient of a splendid new automobile, the gift of the McIntyre Automobile Co., of Auburn. The machine is a most attractive one and is worth about $1,200. Twenty-five years ago Father Young performed the marriage ceremony for Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, and the auto was given as a token of regard and esteem. Following the gift of the auto the mayor and city council of Garrett presented the pastor with a fine chauffeur outfit in token of their appreciation.

Father Young was the first resident pastor at Garrett and has been located there since November 10, 1886. In all of the affairs of the city he has taken an active and interested part and hence his many friends throughout the northern section of the state as well as elsewhere will be gratified to learn of his good fortune.

METHODISTS ASSEMBLE.

Bishop Jones Presiding Over Conference at Elkhart.

The third days' sessions of the annual conference of the Free Methodist church of the North Indiana district, were held today at Elkhart, with Bishop B. R. Jones, of Jackson, Mich., presiding. There was renewed interest in both the business and devotional meetings today and the committees are performing active work. Rev. Wilson T. Loring, pastor of the Free Methodist church, Fort Wayne, is a member of the committee on reforms, assistant secretary of the conference and also conference reporter. Mrs. S. F. Bowser, of this city, is in attendance at the convention representing the local Missionary society.

Bishop Jones states that the north district is one of the best in the church. The past year has been a progressive one and the present conference promises to be one of the best ever held in the district. The election of a district elder is scheduled to take place during today's sessions.

Mrs. E. J. Longfield is visiting in Indianapolis, a guest at the home of her uncle, John McArdle, state tax commissioner.

Mrs. Charles Tyger entertained the Sans Facon club this week on Wednesday. It was the first fall meeting of the club.

Miss Bertha Freeman is in Louisville, Ky., for a month's visit with her sisters, Mrs. Harvey McCracken and Miss Mary Freeman.

Miss Isabella Dickey, of Chicago, has returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Birbeck, of 407 West DeWald street.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Stemen, who have been in the city for several weeks the guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Macbeth, will leave Monday for their home in Kansas City.

Mrs. Sid Throckmorton, Mrs. C. A. Tripple and Mrs. A. A. Bowser and daughter, Miss Jennie Bowser, have gone to Lake James to be guests for a few days of Jacob B. Pierson.

Mrs. Edward M. Norton and son, Edward, who have been visiting for five weeks with their aunts, the Misses Baals, of West Jefferson street, returned home today to Ashland, Ky.

Mrs. Frank Beecher, of Texas, who has been visiting for several days with Mrs. George Hall, is the guest now of Miss Alice Hall, of 719 Jackson street, where she will remain until Monday.

Mrs. Jacob Calhoun and daughter, Julia, have returned from Ohio, where they spent the summer, and Mr. Calhoun is expected home this week from Burt lake, Mich., where he went on account of having hay fever.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kidd, of 1001 Liberty street, returned last evening from a three months' trip to Scotland. On their arrival at home Mr. and Mrs. Kidd were greeted by their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Kidd, jr., of Bloomington, Ill.

Dr. W. H. Humison, of Cleveland, Ohio, who was presiding officer at the recent meetings of the American Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Porter, of South Broadway, during his stay here.

A typographical error in announcing the engagement of Miss Jessie Withers Lowry, which appeared in The Sentinel of yesterday, made the name of her fiance read Zarney, and it should have been Varney. The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Varney, of Boston.

Miss Ida Parrant, of East Creighton avenue, was given a surprise that proved delightful in every way, last evening, by a number of young people. Miss Parrant is a coming bride of the fall season and received a number of appropriate gifts. Mrs. Edward Loraine, of Chicago, was a visiting guest. Pink and white asters formed a pretty decoration for the rooms.

A special reception under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Shoaff, of Spy Run avenue, in honor of Miss Mary Kerr, who is to leave soon for Japan. Mrs. Henry Kaase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hahn, of West Main street, gave her parents a surprise last evening in honor of their fortieth wedding anniversary that afforded them and the guests who participated in the affair a very pleasant time. The dining room was decorated with flowers and palms, roses and carnations both being used. The wedding cake was beautifully frosted with elaborate design and the wedding dates raised in gilt figures. The guests were the nearest friends of a lifetime and immediate relatives.

A business meeting of the Assembly club was held at the Anthony hotel yesterday to make arrangement for a series of dances to be given the coming winter season. Miss Agnes Fairbank was chosen chairman of arrangements in place of Miss Mary McDonald, who resigned. It was decided to hold the opening number on Thanksgiving night in Anthony Wayne club. It was also decided at this meeting to send a formal invitation to the officers of the Peerless-Colonial Dancing club to join the Assembly members in giving the dances. The members of the Peerless-Colonial are married people and the club is one of the oldest dancing clubs in the city.

The Misses Agnes and Nellie Treman entertained friends on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Cora Harkenrider, whose marriage will take place the latter part of this month in St. Patrick's church. Some of the closest friends of Miss Harkenrider were the guests. The rooms were tastefully decorated. American beauty roses, blooming plants and ferns were used. After a game of pedro refreshments were served. Miss Nellie Kelleher and Miss Mary A. Shea won the prizes in the game of cards. Other guests were Miss Catherine Shea, Miss Martha Palmer, Miss Bessie Bickel, Miss Geneva Bishop, Miss Mabel Ogden, Miss Francis Frisby, Miss Blanche Getz and Mrs. A. C. Birkemeier.

Mrs. Zachary Taylor Jones has accepted an invitation to join a party at Philadelphia who are to be the guests for a "week-end" affair at the country estates of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Hall and Mrs. Lawrence W. Rhinelander, "Palisades" and "Owl's Nest," on the Hudson. The Halls, Rhinelanders and Whitneys and Goelets will all keep their country places open during the Fulton-Hudson celebration to entertain their Newport, Philadelphia and Washington society friends, including a number of distinguished foreign guests who are attending the Hudson celebration as special representatives of their governments. Mrs. Jones' New York friends of the Holland society, Colonial Dames and Daughters of the American Revolution, will give several large social affairs in honor of herself and the Philadelphia guests. Mrs. Jones will return to Fort Wayne about the tenth of October.

Jackson—Reed.

The marriage of Miss Alta Reed, of Three Rivers, Mich., and Mr. James A. Jackson, of this city, took place at the home of the bride, on Monday morning, Sept. 20. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have returned here and have gone to housekeeping in College street. Mr. Jackson is a barber.

FADS FOR WOMEN.

The new sweaters for women's wear are smart and come in such a variety of colorings and designs that every one will surely be suited. The latest model is a seamless sweater knitted with Andalusian wool and shaped to the figure in the weave.

These garments are seen in all lengths from that just covering the hips to a sweater reaching the hem of the dress. The half length, however, is most in demand and plain colors are preferred to those trimmed with bands in contrasting colors. The sleeves the coat shaped, gathered in at the wrists, and the buttons are pure white, regardless of the color of the sweater.

* * *

Made cording is much used as a trimming for coats and gowns this year. The cord is quite thick, and is usually applied in a zigzag design or for connecting the edges of slashed seams.

A novel use for this cording was seen recently on a long coat of dull cadet blue broadcloth. The coat closed a little to the left side, and the cording (of the cloth) was arranged in a slanting zigzag down the front edge, the loops coming beyond the edge, the same serving as buttonholes corresponding with large enamel buttons that were sewed on the left edge.

* * *

Dainty little jabots can be made from a handkerchief doubled on the bias corner to corner, the raw edge pleated into a scrap of a band. Before doing so, it is a pretty fashion to work dots in any preferred size, using mercerized cotton.

The colors may be chosen to match the shade of the dress worn, while of course any delicate color will harmonize with a black or a white toilet.

A twenty-five cent handkerchief will make two of these accessories and it goes without saying that they will launder prettily.

* * *

The combination of casement cloth and cretonne makes a smart little gown. A quaint frock of brown, best described as a rather light brown paper shade, was combined with a printed cretonne of thin make in old ivory, decorated with an old world design of a vine in dull fairly pale gobelins blue, with a "shadow" vine in a still paler shade of brown, others with touches of maroon and jade green in the grapes and foliage.

The frock was made with one of the new short tunics. A pretty violet purple casement cloth had a toile de jour blouse in pale blue with a Jacobean design in several dark hues, very smart. This showed the new turned-up square basque, which really gives a very "happed-up-tail" effect, to be Scotch, to some of the recent models.

In another dress there was a plain, straight (and strait!) underskirt of navy blue linen, surmounted by a tunic of pleated mauve muslin, with a border of navy and purple violets in market bunches, printed along the edge. This tunic was short in front and had the revived classical loose pleat in the center of the bodice.

* * *

A somewhat uncommon combination of color was seen recently in a chestnut shantung suit, trimmed with facings and bands of pale water blue linen, almost periwinkle in tone, braided in a slightly deeper shade.

* * *

Housekeepers and others will be interested to know of a paper that is a preventive of moths, also all kinds of insects, including the white moth. It has a pleasant, clean odor, not unlike sandalwood, and is laid on the shelves or used to line boxes or trunks, or laid on the surface of woolen rugs when they are put away.

It has been used previously by hotel keepers for lining rooms in which heavy hangings are placed for the summer, thus doing away with the thorough packing necessary heretofore, and by dyers and cleaners for protecting the goods of their customers against moths and moisture; but it can now be bought at retail in the single roll, I believe.

The paper will not stain the finest fabric or injure it in any way. It is also non-poisonous.

For wrapping books that are to be placed in storage or packed away, I am told, it has no equal, being moisture proof as well as insect proof.

The Co.-Ed is the smartest model in school frocks for high school or college wear. It is neat looking and practical.

Fashioned from blue, white or black serge the dress fits snugly from neck to the knees, where it turns back from a deep kilted flounce. The upper edge of the band turning back is cut into tabs at intervals which are held down with buttons, one on each tab.

The neck is finished with a band collar and the closing is down the left side. An emblem is worked on the left shoulder. The sleeves are medium and confined by turnback tabbed cuffs.

Inexpensive School Frock.

(By Mrs. Jane Ford.)

5 SIZES 4 TO 12 YEARS

To dress children suitably for school, the little frocks they wear must be plainly made, but this restriction does not preclude style or attractiveness, as is shown by the illustration, the pattern for which may be bought in five sizes and will fit children between the ages of four and twelve years. To copy the dress for a girl of eight years of age three and one-half yards of goods thirty-six inches wide, or two and five-eighths yards forty-four inches in width will be needed.

When woolen goods is employed to develop such a model, serge in light weaves will be the best selection, and either taffeta silk or soutache braid should be used for the trimming bands, etc.

The waist portion should be straight and plain, with the exception of two plaits at the back, stitched the full length.

The closing must be effected at the left side of the front with buttons and buttonholes, and the buttons should be material covered, large and flat. They should be arranged in a double row to simulate trimming. To the long waist must be joined a straight plaited skirt, the joining concealed either by a straight belt of the goods or a soft silk sash.

How to Keep the Eyes Bright

The majority of women would possess bright eyes if the sight were not impaired or if indigestion or kindred troubles did not make the eyeballs dull. Lack of sleep, will, of course, detract from brightness. But if one is not getting enough sleep the cure is obvious. And if insomnia is the cause of wakefulness much may be done toward improving such a condition if one will give time during the day to resting the eyes by keeping the lids closed and protecting the pupils from the light.

Careful attention to a suitable arrangement of light when working or using the eyes has much to do with their brightness. If they are strained the lids will be red and the organ may water easily. It is worth while to have the light fall over the left shoulder when sewing, reading or writing. If one cannot have such an attitude the eyes must be protected by other methods. Shutting them, if only for five minutes at a time, through the day, is certainly a simple and an excellent tonic.

Indigestion suggests it own cure for increasing the beauty of the eyes. Pronounced dulness is almost always the result of stomach trouble or of kidney complications. This, however, is a matter which only a physician can decide.

The use of belladonna and other powerful drugs to brighten the eyes should be prevented by force. The argument that physicians use them and that they do no harm is not one which bears in the least upon their misuse by the laity. One into whose eyes atrophine has been put by an oculist's orders is not permitted to go into the light until the effects of the drug have entirely ceased. Expanding the pupils causes the delicate organ to be open without prtection from light, and blindness has been known to result.

MARGARET MIXTER.

FASHION HINTS.

The three distinguishing features for this fall will be the pointed bodice, draperies, and odd sleeves. Long, uncompromising straight lines are giving way to the more graceful, if less trig-appearing, slant ones. While contours remain unbroken, lines individually have frequent interruptions, such as hip yokes, seams in unexpected places, and various forms of trimming. In place of the long, severely plain, corselet bodice of the moyenage, the outline alone is preserved, the intervening space being more or less elaborated.

HOW TO CLEAN SHOES.

To clean white kid slippers wash them with benzine, using a soft brush, rinse well in fresh benzine and while they are wet rub a little French chalk thoroughly into the kid. This helps to remove the black marks the slippers obtained by wearing. Then put the slippers to dry and they will look fresh and clean.

Patent leather shoes should never be cleaned with blacking. They should first be wiped with a damp sponge and polished with a soft cloth. A little olive oil may be used occasionally as a dressing.

Salmon Salad.

Procure a nice piece of salmon. Put on to boil in water with half a cupful of vinegar. Cook thirty minutes and set aside to cool, then skin and remove all bones, then flake into small pieces. Or use canned salmon. Line a salad bowl with crisp lettuce leaves; put in the salmon, cut two white onions in rings and lay over, sprinkle over salt and pepper and over all pour enough white vinegar to moisten well.

Peach Cobbler.

Butter a pudding dish and line the sides with puff paste. Peel enough ripe peaches to fill dish, tearing them apart; adding the kernals. Sweeten the peaches abundantly, adding one gill of brandy. Cover with paste. Bake one hour in a steady oven. When nearly done dust with sugar and set back to glaze. Serve either hot or cold with sauce or cream.

Thomas C. Ireland, a pioneer resident of Huntington, died Thursday.

The Oliver hotel at South Bend is to be enlarged by an annex of sixty rooms.

John S. Bowers signed up the first contract for the use of artificial gas at Decatur.

Mrs. William Murphy, of Auburn, was badly injured in a fall down a stairway in her home.

The Marion high school will have no football team this year for the first time in many years.

Teeple & Dickerson have purchased the Geneva store for many years conducted by F. J. Macwhinney.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets, of Auburn, has sold his practice to Dr. J. E. Cooper, who comes from Colorado Springs.

Treasurer Slaybaugh, of DeKalb county, says he is collecting delinquent taxes at the rate of $100 per day.

Walter Polston, of Auburn, lost the index finger of his right hand when the member was caught in some machinery.

Ab Kelley, well known hotel man at Waterloo, has traded his Locke hotel in that place for the Fisher farm of 100 acres near Kendallville.

Hon. Thurman Gootschalk, representative in the state legislature from Adams county, was wedded Thursday to Miss Nellie Simison, of Berne.

Harry Knapp and Harry Bohnke, two Decatur lads, were attacked by a dog Thursday and were painfully bitten as they were riding their bicycles.

Lightning struck a strawstack on the farm of Cecil Emerick, near Kendallville, blinding a colt which had taken shelter there and setting fire to the stack.

Louis Beckman, named for mayor of Kendallville by the democrats, is a native of Fort Wayne, but has been engaged in business in Kendallville since 1859.

John Coll, a farmer in Troy township, DeKalb county, is suffering from typhoid fever, and twenty-four of his neighbors assembled a few days ago and cut his corn crop for him.

The four-year-old son of Marion Yont, in Aboit township, Allen county, was kicked in the face by a horse Wednesday evening, and the little one will lose the sight of his right eye.

Henry A. Stewart, of Lafontaine, Wabash county, has brought suit against John A. Schuster, also of that town, demanding damages in the sum of $4,000 for the alienation of the affections of Mrs. Stewart. Both families are prominent.

The horse driven by Dr. and Mrs. Jere McCain, of Linn Grove, became frightened by lightning in the storm Wednesday evening and ran away. Both occupants were pitched from the buggy and Mrs. McCain sustained a fracture of the arm.

Mrs. Benjamin Casey, 75 years of age, was found dead in her cow stable at her farm, four miles north of Butler, Wednesday by neighbors. It is believed the aged woman went to the stable to milk the cows and was kicked, death ensuing from the injury.

During the electrical storm Wednesday evening a peculiar phenomenon was noted at Decatur, where electricity played about the spire of St. Mary's Catholic church in strange fashion for two hours. It is believed the spire chanced to be attuned to some wireless telegraph station and that the long and short flashes plainly visible were in fact the transmission of a wireless telegraph apparatus.

City nominations made by the republicans at Huntington Thursday evening were: For mayor, Claude Cline; for city clerk, Harry I. Young; for treasurer, George Grass; for councilmen-at-large, Charles Snider and George Fanning; for ward councilmen: 1, Will J. Kase; 2, Will C. Windle; 3, Walter Brazelton; 4, Barney J. Gibney; 5, George Weller.

John Rohr, of Wilmington township, DeKalb county, evidently believes in marriage. He is seventy-two years of age and procured a license Thursday to wed Martha Hamman, who is his sixth wife. She is now in her seventieth year. Three of Mr. Rohr's wives have passed to the great beyond, two were divorced, and the sixth is now enjoying her honeymoon.

Recent incorporations: The Fort Wayne Brass works, Fort Wayne; capital stock, $15,000; manufacturers; directors, J. H. Mandeville, W. J. Vesey and Maurice Goldberger. The North Judson Novelty company, North Judson; capital stock, 25,000; manufacturers; incorporators, O. L. Hubbard, F. M. Cawly, F. J. Venely, J. S. Beetham and O. W. Kamensky.

Charles Wolfe, on trial at Decatur, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, was found not guilty by the jury Thursday afternoon after a deliberation of thirty minutes. Wolfe was arrested following some trouble with Jacob Mangold in October last when he struck Mongold with a club. Mangold died forty minutes later, but the defense was able to show that his death was due to heart disease and not to the effect of Wolfe's blow. The affair occurred while both men were at work on the highway near Decatur.

Lewis Signs, as trustee of the defunct bank of North Manchester, sold over $17,000 worth of notes and accounts for $43. The first offering was a note for $321.22 on S. A. Naftsger and it sold for 25 cents. A naccount of $2,560.28 on Lawrence & Co. was also sold for the small sum of 25 cents. An overdraft of $9,789.58 and a note for $200 on L. J. Naftsger called for some hot competition and was finally landed by Charles Wright for $40. This was the big sale of the day. Several notes and accounts on D. W. Krisher, deceased, amounting to $1,755.90, were carried away for two dimes and a nickle. In all thirteen sales were made and the total amount realized was $43.40. The bank failed in June, 1904, and creditors will realize 50 per cent. on their claims.

However this may be, the general public is benefited by the use of such standard medicines as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, with its wonderful record of thousands of cures among suffering women. We are very glad to say, however, that there are hundreds of honest physicians in the United States who do not hesitate to recommend such medicines.

This group of pictures presents some scenes attending the arrival in New York of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the discoverer of the north pole. One scene shows Dr. Cook garlanded with flowers and smiling his thanks to his admirers. Another scene shows Dr. Cook with his hat on, smiling. On his right is seen John R. Bradley, the American hunter, explorer and sportsman, who financed the first successful expedition to the north pole, while on his left is Bird S. Coler, president of the borough of Brooklyn. The reception to Dr. Cook in New York and Brooklyn was the heartiest and most enthusiastic imaginable. Vast throngs lined the streets and in the vicinity of his home in Brooklyn the crowds were so dense the police had difficulty in keeping sufficient order to insure bodily safety. For three hours Dr. Cook held a reception and shook hands with all that the police could contrive to get into single file and pass to the house. Finally the arctic hero's endurance was exhausted and from sheer lack of physical strength he was forced to decline to meet any more at that time. Seldom has Brooklyn witnessed such scenes of enthusiastic acclaim as those which greeted the return from his conquest of the pole of the modest physician, who was first to plant the stars and stripes on the "top of the world."

READ HEED SEEK FIND ART NOVELTY STOVE

The Greatest Base Burner in the World, and the Reasons Why Are:

First—It is built scientifically, there being no dead air space in the flues of this stove.

Second—It will generate more heat units from one ton of coal than any other stove upon the market; there is absolutely no exception. We prove it.

Third—It consumes the coal. The ash pan has to be emptied but twice a week and the magazine filled but once a day.

Fourth—It heats the floor of your house. Rubbers or anything under the stove will burn if left there too long. The cat or dog will seek some other place to lie rather than under this make of stove.

Fifth—So many people come to us and say: We have the most advertised and highest priced stove in the city, and, although we hate to acknowledge it, we don't get the real good warm house from it that our neighbor does, who has one of your Art Novelties. We want you to send one up and we will sell our stove for what we can get for it.

Sixth—You cannot find anyone who wants to sell an Art Novelty for any other make.

Seventh—Every stove sold under an absolute guarantee. Come in and we will demonstrate this wonderful base burner to you.

REUNION NEXT YEAR GOES TO LAKE EVERETT

Veterans of Eleventh Battery in Annual Meeting at Auburn.

Twenty-two survivors of the famous old Eleventh Indiana battery participated in the annual reunion of this organization at Auburn on Thursday, Fort Wayne sending the largest delegation. Upon invitation of Lieut. Henry M. Williams it was voted to hold next year's reunion at Lake Everett, in this county. Officers elected by the association were:

President—Capt. John Otto, Auburn.

Vice President—Lieut. Henry M. Williams, Fort Wayne.

Scertary and Historian—W. M. Glenn, Fort Wayne.

Treasurer—S. S. Kelker, Fort Wayne.

Dinner for the reunion party was served by the Women's Relief Corps at Auburn, and a campfire followed. About forty-six members of the old command survive, and of these practically half were in attendance at the Auburn reunion. Some of them traveled considerable distances to be present—Jacob Wageman coming from Ellis, Kan., and Sergeant Walter Stratton from Milwaukee for that purpose. Battery members registered at the meeting were: Capt. John Otto, Henry M. Williams, John McKinley, Albert Smead, E. B. Walters, John McGrady, John Cochran, Peter Gressley, Isaac Johnson, Jacob Wageman, John Shuler, John Koontz, Wm. Edmonds, G. Kirshner, M. J. Reynolds, Wm. M. Glenn, S. S. Kelker, Walter Stratton, Adam Paster, Louis Hoopengardner, J. D. Kickley and W. B. Trier.

WILL PAY MONDAY.

Battery B to Receive Payment for Sparta Camp.

The members of Battery B will be paid Monday evening at the regular drill for the recent encampment at Sparta. The total amount of the money to be distributed amounts to $1,056 and is the state's share of the expense. The men received government pay also, it being paid to them while in camp. The men will receive pay at the rate of $1 per day for privates, $1.05 for corporals and $1.10 for sergeants. Commissioned officers received government pay only. All camp equipment as well as khaki uniforms, campaign hats and hat cords must be turned in to the quartermaster before any man will be paid. The board of investigation appointed by Captain Clark to consider the cases of the men who did not attend camp will meet at the armory tonight to hear the evidence in the cases. This board is convened by orders from the war department and upon its report depends whether or not the absentees will be called upon to face a court-martial trial.

SOME FORMS OF PARALYSIS ARE CURABLE

An Akron, Ohio, Woman Tells How She Was Benefited by the Tonic Treatment for Nervous Troubles.

There are still people who say that no form of paralysis can be cured.

If you have partial paralysis or some other severe nervous disorder, do you think it is better to be treated by someone who insists that you are incurable, or to take a treatment that grateful patients throughout the United States testify has cured them?

Mrs. James B. Sharp, of 54 South Summit street, Akron, Ohio, says:

"In October, 1906, I suffered a stroke of paralysis which affected the entire left side of my body. I do not know what brought it on for I had been in good or fair health up to that time. The stroke came on me in the night and I first felt it in my left hand and it then extended over my left side. There was a numbness in my left hand and side and I was unable to move myself. I was helpless in bed for four weeks. My left eye was affected and was very painful and there were queer, sharp pains through my heart.

"For four weeks I was under a doctor's care. He said I had paralysis and considered my case serious. My stomach would not retain his medicine and he did not help me. Through reading a paper my daughter got me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I used them regularly for several weeks and my faith in them grew as I found I was getting better. It was nearly a year before I recovered the use of my hand but long before that my left side had been so relieved of its numbness that I could walk around the house and go out doors. I am now in better health than I have been at any time during my life and I attribute my health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I take the pills now and then to tone up my system and would not be without them."

Every person interested should send today for our free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price. 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

WIRING YET TO LET.

Hattersley & Sons Now Hold Three of Four Awards on Schools.

The wiring contracts on the Tenth ward and West Washington street schools are the only ones yet to let and new bids on them will be opened next Monday evening at the regular meeting of the school board. Thursday afternoon the board allowed the heating and ventilating contract on the Washington street school to Hattersley & Sons and on the Tenth ward school to Lewis & Kitchem, of Chicago. The Hattersley concern also holds the plumbing contracts on both the buildings.

NOW LOOKING OVER CANNERIES IN DISTRICT

Food Inspector Tucker Says Most of Them are in Good Condition.

State Food and Drug Inspector F. W. Tucker, of Peru, was in Fort Wayne today in the course of a trip in which he is rounding up the canneries in his territory, and he says he is finding most of them in pretty fair condition.

Just now the canning season is at its height with work on tomatoes and other vegetables, as well as corn, and the inspector is delving deeply into the manner of handling the stuff and the cleanliness of the canning institutions. Where there is ground for criticism the inspector is issuing orders that results in a prompt clean-up as a usual thing, and on the whole conditions are declared to be much improved over the days when there was no state inspection of the preparation of food products which are to be offered for sale.

Inspector Tucker is armed with a camera which he is using with excellent results in securing evidence against places where regulations are not observed.

BORNE OVER MOUNTAIN TRAIL.

Girl With Appendicitis Carried Far by Neighbors to Get Relief.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 24.—To save the life of Glayds Saunders, who was seized by a severe attack of appendicitis at her home in Alpha, a remote place in Lewis county, Washington, her father and eight friends carried the girl on an improvised stretcher for two nights and a day over a rough mountain trail twenty-one miles to Napavine, Wash., whence she was brought to Portland by train. Several of the party were almost exhausted when the trip was ended. The girl will be operated on as soon as she recovers from the fatigue.

WILL CONFER WITH CHIEFS.

Course in Peoria Building Strike Will Be Decided On.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 24.—T. P. Bond, superintendent of the Westlake Construction company, will have a conference with his superiors at St. Louis, and representatives of the various labor unions employed on a Peoria building from which 300 workmen walked out yesterday. The purpose of the conference is to determine whether union or non-union men shall be engaged to complete the work. Bond favors union men, but has instructions to proceed with the work regardless of union labor and, if need be, under heavy police protection.

IN THE THEATERS

ASKED RELIGIOUS OPINION.

Clergymen Were Invited to See "The Regeneration" in Chicago.

So much discussion regarding "The Regeneration," in which Our Own Stock company will be seen next week, ensued during the run of the play at the Studebaker theater in Chicago last year, that the management invited the clergy of the city to witness the production and give an opinion of this powerful portrayal of slum life. There were those who criticised the play sharply, and found much fault with some of the details of the play. It was admitted, however, almost without exception, that "The Regeneration" tells a definite story and tells it in powerful fashion. The play ran for three months at the Studebaker at a $2 scale, and it was accorded the commendation of the best class of theatergoers as a work of powerful dramatic strength. "The Regeneration" will open with the matinee Monday.

PRETTY PLAY OF WAR-TIMES.

"The Crisis" Aglow With Patriotism From First to Last.

No one who has seen Our Own Stock company's production of "The Crisis" at the Majestic this week can have failed to note the patriotic spirit which permeates this pretty play of war-time days from the opening notes of Prof. Reineke's orchestral accompaniment down to the fall of the curtain on the final act of the play. "The Crisis" is vibrant with wholesome American sentiment, but even in its strong contrast of views there is nothing of cheap heroics in it.

The run of "The Crisis" has been one of the most pleasing offerings in the long list of Our Own Stock successes. It will be given daily, matinee and evening, the remainder of the week.

ARCTIC CLUB HOLDS FETE WITH COOK AS GUEST

Explorer Answers Critics and Says He Needed No License for Deed.

New York, Sept. 24.—Experts on those awful functions known as public banquets agreed at the one given last night in the Waldorf to Dr. Frederick A. Cook by the Arctic Club of America that no one but Dr. Cook, the imperturbable, could so well have gone through the ordeal of being the guest of honor and at the same time have given out the impression that he merely was "among those present."

Always these dinners begin with a reception, with the guest of honor being lionized from sunset to soup. Last night the Arctic club, the Bushwick neighbors, and other folks to the number of 1,185 gathered at sunset, but from then on to the oysters they had just each other to congratulate.

When it was time for the banquet proper to begin Dr. Cook happened along and walked into the hall nonchalantly and sat down. The Arctic club, Bushwick, and Manhattan followed as soon as they saw Dr. Cook had no notion of spending half an hour shaking hands all over the lot.

Schley Good Presiding Officer.

The banquet was one of the biggest public dinners seen in New York in some time. Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, retired, president of the Arctic club, presided, with Dr. Cook on his right and Acting Mayor McGowan at his left.

The throng differed from the usual banquet in that every table had a sprinkling of women around it in addition to the mere men. And there were girls with knee length skirts and boys with knickers that didn't quite reach the knees.

Schley made a good presiding officer, inasmuch as he seemed to grasp the idea that the duty of a toastmaster is to present the speakers without making a regular speech himself every time he rises.

Dr. Cook, who was the last speaker, got an explosive welcome when his turn came. Before the doctor had a chance to say his say there were short addresses by McGowan, Count Carl Moltke, minister from Denmark, Prof. William H. Brewer, of Yale, Job E. Hedges, Congressman W. S. Dennett, Charles Wake, of the Explorers' club, and Bird S. Coler.

Regrets That Cook Is Challenged.

In presenting Dr. Cook, Rear Admiral Schley said: "We are here to honor one who is pre-eminently a successful explorer. And, like other men successful in other lines of activity, he is challenged—which we all regret—for an achievement in which there is glory enough for both. Our guest's splendid behavior has attracted the praise of his countrymen and added innumerable hosts to his list of friends. As president of the Arctic club, I believe both Peary and Cook discovered the pole. They undertook the same privation and are entitled to equal credit. Such men are made of material that does not bleach out in the wash. I have the honor and pleasure of presenting to you Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who first discovered the north pole."

As Dr. Cook arose the orchestra started "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and the diners all joined in singing it. Dr. Cook read his speech slowly and carefully, following the typewritten lines closely. He expressed thanks for the honor accorded him, reviewed the history of man's endeavor to attain the pole, paid tribute to John R. Bradley, whose money enabled him to undertake the expedition, answered briefly a few charges made against him, and reiterated that he unfurled the flag at the pole on April 21, 1908.

Nothing in Arctic Impossible.

"This is one of the highest honors I ever hope to receive," said Dr. Cook. "You represent most of the frigid explorers of Europe and nearly all of the arctic explorers in America. Your welcome is the explorers' guaranty to the world—coming, as it does, from fellow workers, from men who know and have gone through the same experience—it is an appreciation and a victory, the highest which could fall to the lot of any returning traveler.

"The key to frigid endeavor is subsistence. There is nothing in the entire realm of the arctic which is impossible to man. If the animal fires are supplied with adequate fuel, there is no cold too severe and no obstacle too great to surmount. No important expedition ever has returned because of unscalable barriers or impossible weather. The exhausted food supply resulting from a limited means of transportation has turned every aspirant from his goal. In the ages of the polar quest much has been tried and much has been learned.

Must Bend to Savage Simplicity.

"The most important lesson is that civilized man, if he will succeed, must bend to the savage simplicity necessary. The problem belongs to modern man, but for its execution we must begin with the food and the means of transportation of the wild man. Even this must be reduced and simplified to fit the new environment. With due respect to the complimentary eloquence of the chairman and others, candor compels me to say that the effort of getting to the pole is not one of physical endurance, nor is it fair to call it bravery, but a proper understanding of the needs of the stomach and a knowledge of the limits of the brute force of the motive power, be that man or beast.

"Our conquest was only possible with the accumulated lessons of early ages of experience. The failures of our less successful predecessors were stepping stones to ultimate success. The real pathfinders of the pole were the early Danish, the Dutch, the English and the Norse, Italian and American explorers. With these worthy forerunners we must, therefore, share the good fruits your chairman has put into my basket.

Obligation Due the Wild Man.

"A similar obligation is due to the wild man. The twin families of wild folks, the Eskimo and the Indian, were important factors to us. The use of pemmican and the snowshoe, which makes the penetration of the arctic mystery barely possible, has been borrowed from the American Indian. The method of travel, the motor force and the native ingenuity, without which the polar quest would be a hopeless task, have been taken from the Eskimo. The savage man, therefore, who has no flag, we are bound to give a part of this fruit.

"To John R. Bradley—the man who paid the bills—belongs at least one-half of this fruit.

"The Canadian government sent its expedition, under Capt. Bernier, 1,000 miles out of its course to help us to it. I gladly pass the basket. In returning, shriveled skin and withered muscles were filled out at the expense of Danish hospitality. And last, but not least—the reception with open arms by fellow explorers—to you and to all belongs this basket of good things the chairman has placed on my shoulder.

Sought to Escape Bombast.

"Nothing would suit me better than to tell you tonight the complete story of our quest, but the first telegram gives more specific data than I could hope to tell you in an after dinner address. Therefore I shall devote the allotted time to an elucidation of certain phases of our adventure.

"One of the most remarkable charges brought out is that I did not seek a geographic license to start for the pole. Now, gentlemen, to the large public that may be a mystery, but you who know will appreciate that no explorer can start and say that he will reach the pole. Many good men have tried before; all have failed. All who understand the problem know that success is only barely possible when every conceivable circumstance is favorable. It is only necessary to make announcement that an expedition embarks for the pole to start an undesirable bombast and flourish of trumpets. This I chose to escape.

"John R. Bradley furnished the funds. I shaped the destiny of the expedition. For the time being the business concerned us only. I believed then, as I believe n ow, that if we succeeded there would be time enough to fly the banner of victory. You are here tonight, Mr. Bradley is here and I am here. We have come together to celebrate that victory.

Not Bound to Appeal for License.

"Now, gentlemen, I appeal to you, as explorers and as men. Am I bound to appeal to anybody, to any man, to any body of men, for a license to look for the pole?

"Another criticism is the charge of our insufficient equipment. We have met this. You know that we had every possible aid to success in sledge traveling. A big ship is no advantage. An army of white men, who at best are novices, is a distinct hindrance, while a cumbersome luxury of equipment is fatal to progress. We chose to live a life as simple as that of Adam, and we forced the strands of human endurance to scientific limits. If you will reach the pole there is no other way. For our simple needs Mr. Bradley furnished sufficient funds. We were not overburdened with the usual aids to pleasure and comfort, but I did not start for that purpose.

"Now, of the excitement of the press to force things of their own picking from important records into print: In reply to this I have taken the stand that I already have given a tangible account of our journey. It is as complete as the preliminary reports of any previous explorer. The data, the observations, the records are of exactly the same character. Heretofore such evidence has been taken with faith, and the complete record was not expected to appear for years, whereas we agreed to deliver all within a few months.

Description of Polar Conditions.

"Now, gentlemen, about the pole. We arrived April 21, 1908. We discovered new land along the one hundred and second meridian between the eighty-fourth and eighty fifth parallel. Beyond this there was absolutely no life and no land. The ice was in large, heavy fields, with few pressure lines. The drift was south of east; the wind was south of west. Clear weather gave good, regular observations nearly every day. These observations, combined with those at the pole the 21st and 22d of April are sufficient to guarantee our claim. When taken in connection with the general record you do not require this. I can see that, but this and all the other records will come to you in the due course of events.

"I cannot sit down without acknowledging to you and to the living arctic explorers my debt of gratitude for their valuable assistance. The report of this polar success has come with a sudden force, but in the present enthusiasm we must not forget the fathers of the art of polar travel.

"There's Glory Enough for All."

"There is glory enough for all. There is enough to go to the graves of the dead and to the heads of the living.

"Many are here tonight. The names are too numerous to mention. Special mention for honors must be made to Greely, Schley, Melville, Peary, Fiala, Nansen, Abruzzi, Cagni, Sverdrup, Amundsen, Nordenskjold, and a number of English and other explorers."

COMPANY HAS GIVEN NO ORDERS FOR RAILS

Ninety Days Necessary to Get a Shipment—Board of Works.

For the reason that one kind of rails are necessary for paving brick and another for creosote block the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company has not been able to place orders for the material for the new track on Calhoun street and there is hardly a possibility that the work of paving the thoroughfare can be taken up this fall as it takes ninety days to get an order through.

The board of public works signed up the contract with the Moellering Construction company at its regular meeting last night but the matter has been held up so long that it is not likely anything in the way of actual work will be attempted before spring. There is a lot of special work to be gotten out as the switches and turnouts will be changed at Superior street, Lewis street and at the car barns.

Residents of High street were before the board in an effort to save their shade trees when the new walks are built. The city engineer had already made plans by which nearly all of the trees will be saved.

Property owners from Nebraska, south of Main street, asked concerning plans for a sewer to drain their property. The plans were ordered some time ago, but there is trouble in securing an outlet.

The resolution for the opening of new Main street to Berry street was confirmed.

A resolution for paving the alley between Wayne, Washington, Van Buren and Jackson streets was adopted.

An amended plat of the Jacobs "2" addition was approved.

ANOTHER RECORD CLASS.

Hundred and Ten Petitions for Next Tuesday's Scottish Rite.

The special Scottish Rite class which will receive the degrees through the fourteenth on next Tuesday bids fair to be another record breaker, for there are now on hand 110 petitions from those who desire to receive the degrees and it is certain that a majority of this number will comprise the Tuesday class. As only one day will be spent in conferring the degrees, there will be no social feature of the September convocation.

It is probable that the committees for the dedication of the Scottish Rite cathedral will be announced tomorrow. The dates of the dedication are the 16th, 17 and 18th of November.

CALLING FOURTH ASSESSMENT.

Forty Per Cent of Knitting Mill Subscriptions Will Soon be Paid.

The fourth assessment of 10 per cent of the subscriptions towards the Old Fort Knitting mills will be due tomorrow and notices are now being prepared to send to the subscribers. Forty per cent of the $100,000 subscribed will then have been paid.

The work on the buildings for the company is progressing very rapidly so that there is no doubt but that active operations can be begun on the 1st of November. The buildings will be completed in about four weeks.

STORM DAMAGE INCREASED.

W. H. Garman Loses Barn and Contents Valued at $2,000.

The damage attendant with the electrical storm of Wednesday evening has been considerably increased with the report of the destruction of the barn and its entire contents valued at 2,000 on the farm of W. H. Garman, in the northeast corner of Perry township. The structure contained nearly all the crops harvested this year with some valuable farm implements. Insurance to the extent of 1,100 is carried in the Farmers' Mutual, of this county.

Jonas Schlatter, residing in Cedar Creek township, reports that he lost three hogs which were struck by lightning.

MILE OF ROADWAY GRADED.

Workmen building the roadway for the new Fort Wayne to Bryan interurban line have succeeded in grading a mile of the way thus far. They have been working near Maysville, and it is hoped to begin operations near this city soon. That will probably be done when the $5,000 bond denoting the acceptance of the franchise shall have been filed with the county commissioners. E. A. Tennis, the chief promoter of the road, is engaged in work in Kansas, so that some delay is experienced in finally fulfilling the terms of the franchise.

The Bachelor Boys of the Knights of Columbus will give a dance in the club rooms this evening.

GOVERNOR WILL GO ANYHOW.

Labor Union-Military Will Not Keep Him From Evansville.

Indianapolis, Sept. 24.—Fearing that Governor Marshall would cancel his engagement to review the German day celebration to be held in Evansville on Wednesday of next week, because of an implied insult to state authority, the committee in charge of the festival today reconsidered the protest of the Brewery Workers' union against companies of militia being allowed to join in the procession and announced that it would not accede. The protest, which apparently was effective, stated that soldiers were organized against union labor especially and that union workmen should not be asked to march behind militiamen.

Governor Marshall said today that he did not know of the controversy at Evansville, but that he would attend the celebration whether the militia, the labor unions or neither was withdrawn.

CHILD SAFE; MOTHER HURT.

Woman at Indianapolis Hurt in Escaping From Flames.

Indianapolis, Sept. 24.—Anna Gelish, wife of Private Gelish, of the Tenth infantry, stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near this city, tossed her baby out of an upper story window of her home and jumped herself to escape fire late yesterday. Both the woman's legs were broken, but the child was not hurt. The mother was brought to the City hospital today from the army post.

Gelish's wife and five children lived in a small house near the fort. Four of the children were playing outside the house when the fire started.

JACK HARDY CAUGHT IN GAME WITH TIGERS

Succeeded Street at Washington—Detroit Won the Game.

Washington, Sept. 24.—In the final game of the season between the Washington and Detroit clubs the latter won handily by the score of 8 to 1, making it three out of four for the series. Donovan was on the rubber for the visitors and he simply toyed with the local batsmen, lobbing the ball up for a hit and with men on bases, retiring the side without a run in all but one inning. Ten hits, one a double, with only one run scored, shows how effective Donovan was when it came down to real work. Washington tried out Hardy, a new catcher signed by the club. The score: R.H.E.
Washington ....0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 10 1
Detroit .....1 2 0 0 3 0 0 2 0—8 10 0

IN THE SHAMROCK FOLD.

Diederich, a former Shamrock, who finished the season with Bay City, and won two-thirds of his games, returned home yesterday.

In the clash between the Bluffton N.-I. league champions and the Fort Wayne Shamrocks, at League park next Sunday, the visitors will present James and Orr as battery, the home team using Cyclone Alberts and Hoffer or Wiedeman. Play will be called at 3.

A BARNSTORMING TRIP.

Dineen Quits Pitching and Goes to Umpiring

"BILL" DINEEN.
NOW AMERICAN LEAGUE UMPIRE.

When the American league made its bow in the city of New York some years a go there was a big pitcher on the Boston team who had the habit of making trouble for the Highlanders whenever that crowd of Boston champions came over to New York to play.

He was especially conspicuous on the afternoon that "Happy Jack" Chesbro threw the championship against the grand stand with a wild spit ball. His name is Dineen. From Boston he went to St. Louis, where he played fairly well, but never with the same assurance that he had when he was helping to win a championship.

This year he has been of some use to St. Louis, but very little. Not long ago he heard that he might become an American league umpire, if he had decided that his active baseball days were over, so he went to McAleer and asked for his release, stating that he was to be given a position as judge of play.

McAleer permitted him to depart in peace and now Dineen is an umpire. Hope he is a good one. If there is one thing which baseball needs as much as good players it is good umpires.

COLONELS LOSE BUT HOLD LEAD IN CHASE

Toledo Helps Along by Giving Brewers a Beating 2 to 1.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 24.—Louisville lost its final game of the season with St. Paul here by the score of 3 to 1, but still retained the same lead over Milwaukee in the association race because the Brewers lost one game to Toledo and tied the other. Minneapolis laid off because of rain at Columbus and thereby gained half a game on the leaders.

Kansas City is here today to close the season, there being four games scheduled on the local grounds, the last of which is to be played Monday. Kansas City is now at the tail end of the league and the cowboys have not been putting up a very good game lately, so it looks fair for the locals to make a grand finish.

Milwaukee has four more games to play, according to the schedule, while Minneapolis has five, a double-header being carded at Toledo Sunday. The Brewers go to Columbus, where they finish the season, while Minneapolis plays its remaining games at Toledo.

St. Paul won by batting Hogg hard, having secured a total of eleven hits, while Olson held the Colonels to four bingles. The score: R.H.E.
Louisville .....0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 4 0
St. Paul .....0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 1—3 11 1
Batteries—Hogg and Hughes; Leroy and Spencer.
Stolen bases — Olson (2), Armbruster, Boucher. Sacrifice hits—Liese, Diehl, Leroy, Breen. Three-base hits—Delehanty, Wrigley. Double plays — Sullivan to Hughes to Salm; Boucher to Wrigley to Flynn. Struck out—By Hogg, 4; by Leroy, 4. Bases on balls—Off Hogg, 2; off Leroy, 2. Hit by pitcher—Liese. Wild pitch—Hogg. Time of game—1:40. Umpires—Guthrie and Owens.

TOLEDO, 2-0; MILWAUKEE, 1-0.

Toledo, O., Sept. 24.—Toledo defeated Milwaukee in the first game of a double-header by a score of 2 to 1, and held the visitors to a tie—0 to 0—in six innings in the second game, which was called on account of darkness. Score first game: R.H.E.

Milwaukee .....0 0 0 0 0 0—0 4 1
Batteries—Yingling and Long; Dougherty and Moran.

KANSAS CITY, 11; INDIANAPOLIS, 2.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 24.—Kansas City won from Indianapolis 11 to 2. Carter, the visiting pitcher, was too much for the locals, while Slagle was pounded all over the field and finally forced to retire. Kuepper relieved him and allowed but one hit. Score: R.H.E.
Kansas City ...1 0 3 0 1 1 4 0 1—11 12 1
Indianapolis ...1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0— 2 9 5
Batteries—Carter and Wolfe; Slagle, Kuepper and Lemmon.
Two-base hits—Love, Hopke, Burke. Three-base hits—Carisch (2). Struck out—By Slagle, 4; by Carter, 5. Double plays—Kuepper and Carr; Brashear and Rapps. Stolen bases—Carr, Williams. Passed balls—Wolfe, Lemmon. Hit by pitcher—Hallman, by Kuepper. Bases on balls—Off Carter, 3; off Kuepper, 1. Sacrifice hits—Carr, Brashear. Hits—Off Slagle, 11 in 6 1-3 innings; off Kuepper, 1 in 2 2-3 innings. Time of game—1:50. Umpire—King.

SANDER STARTS THE SEASON WITH A DOUBLE

Rolls 201 Average in His First Series—Scores at Brunswick.

"Ot" Sander bowled an average of 201 for his first series in the Commercial league at the Brunswick last night with a total of 603 and a high score of 212, which was high for the Bungalows, of which he is captain. Gus Fox, of the Fox Bros., however, topped him for the big score of the evening with a clean record in the last game and a total of 221, which was the star performance.

The Fox brothers suffered from a lack of practice and several of the Bungalow bowlers showed that they haven't gotten their eyes on the pins yet. The scores follow:

BALTES WIN IN SECOND.

Good Scores Made by Both Teams in the Second League.

In the second league the Baltes Hotel team won three straight from the Wayno's, but the losers were chasing the opposition all the time and some good scores marked the contests. Klett was high with 192 for the first game, while W. Wiebke made a spurt in the last game and got 193, which was the best record of the evening. The scores:

CENTRAL LEAGUE NOTES.

Earl Yingling, probably one of the two best left handers in the Central league last season, worked for Toledo against Milwaukee in six innings yesterday and held the Brewers runless. The game was called on account of darkness.

Grand Rapids Press: While Annis and Raidy may have arrived at some understanding, it is as yet secret, for Joey Raidy, declaring that nothing had been done, bade goodby to his friends this morning and was on his way to his home in Adams, Mass. This happens to have been the first season that Raidy ever was in complete charge of a club and he will leave a good impression with many. His position is clear. He is perfectly willing, even anxious, to come back to Grand Rapids next year. What ultimately will happen is entirely up to Bert Annis. His stand now is much too tentative to make any elaborate plans for the coming season.

John Ganzel, former owner of the Grand Rapids franchise in the Central league, took a tail end proposition in the Eastern league at Rochester and has about clinched the pennant. The club played three games here in the spring and lost two of them.

Guy O. Sample, Manager Montgomery's utility mainstay during the past season in the Central league, has signed to manage the East Liverpool team in the O.-P. league next season. The deal has been pending since the close of the Central league season, but negotiations were not concluded until yesterday afternoon. Zanesville is to receive its choice of the East Liverpool players next spring.

Tarleton, Soffel, Jewell and McKechnie, composing Bill Phillips' championship infield, have all been either sold, drafted or covered up. McKechnie is the only one likely to stick in the majors.

Why?
From a small beginning the sale and use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Why? Because it has proved especially valuable for coughs and colds. For sale by all druggists.

Ely's Cream Balm has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine closet among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffing. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

FIREMAN FATALLY HURT AT DOCKS

Horace Bidelman, Struck by Engine, Dies in Ambulance.

EDWARD J. KELKER BADLY INJURED

Head Caught in Valve Gear of Engine—Shop and Rail.

Horace H. Bidelman, a Pennsylvania fireman, was so badly injured by being struck by a G. R. & I. engine at the Pennsylvania coal docks shortly after midnight last night that he died just as he was being taken from the ambulance into St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. Bidelman was about to leave with a freight train with Engineer T. W. Pelty and they were at the coal docks taking on a supply of fuel. After the tender had been filled the young man got down from the cab and as he alighted he was struck by the engine of incoming G. R. & I. train No. 19 and hurled aside with force sufficient to break his neck and fracture his right arm in three places and bruise his right side. The Barnett ambulance was called and he was hurried to the hospital, but his injuries were such that he lived only a few minutes after the accident.

The remains were turned over to Undertaker J. C. Peltier, who prepared them for burial, and they will be shipped to Mentone on Nickel Plate train No. 3, which leaves the city at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The bereaved father and a brother of the deceased came up at noon to accompany the body to Mentone.

The funeral service will take place at the home of the parents at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Several of the Fort Wayne friends of the deceased will attend.

Engineer W. C. Kelker and Fireman C. W. Yearkey were in the cab of the G. R. & I. engine, but could do nothing to prevent the accident.

Horace H. Bidelman was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bidelman, who reside on a farm four miles out from Mentone, where the deceased was born January 24, 1884. He came to Fort Wayne to reside in the fall of 1906 and November 24 of that year he took a position as fireman on the Pennsylvania road. For the past eight or ten months he made his home with Mrs. Catherine Swartzel, at 2127 John street.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic lodge at Mentone, but so far as known did not belong to any other organization except the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association.

The surviving relatives are the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bidelman, three brothers and a sister—John, Earl and Frank and Miss Fern Bidelman, all of whom reside on farms near the parental home.

MACHINIST BADLY HURT.

Ed J. Kelker Has Head Squeezed in Machinery.

Edward J. Kelker, a machinist in the air brake department of the Pennsylvania shops, is in St. Joseph's hospital with an injury, the extent of which cannot be determined for awhile, but it is considered quite serious. The young man was engaged about a locomotive that was being repaired in the erecting shop at 8:30 o'clock this morning and his head was caught in the gear of the Walschier valve when a comrade in the cab threw back the reverse lever. The link and the guide york caught on each side of his head just back of the ears and the pressure was sufficient to produce severe concussion, how severe Dr. Porter, who attended the young man, cannot determine for several hours. An affecting incident of the accident was when his father appeared on the scene as Edward was being placed in the ambulance at the shops. The father, Engineer W. C. Kelker, was at the throttle of the engine which struck and fatally injured Fireman Bidelman last night and he was at the G. R. & I. offices, making a report of the accident, when he saw the ambulance approach and went out to see who had been hurt.

LAD LOSES A FOOT.

Carl Lehner Tries to Get on Train and Falls.

Carl Lehner, seven years old and a son of Theodore Lehner, who resides on Summer, near Lumbard street, got his left foot beneath the wheels of a car in eastbound Wabash freight train No. 96 at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when he attempted to get upon the train for a ride while en route to Concordia college, where he was a pupil. The foot was crushed off at the ankle and thrown up into the gearing of the car and carried away so that it could not be found. The lad was accompanied by two or three other boys about his age and they summoned Walter Heine, who lives near. Mr. Heine picked Carl up and carried him into the spoke factory, where an effort to stop the flow of blood was made and the little fellow was then taken in the Barnett ambulance to the Lutheran hospital, where Dr. Duemling dressed the limb, making an amputation two inches above the ankle. Theodore Lehner, the father of the lad, is employed in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop.

FELL FROM A TRAIN.

William Brewer Badly Injured at Hobart.

Yesterday morning Nickel Plate section men discovered William Brewer wandering around in the vicinity of Hobart in a dazed condition. He was taken to a surgeon who examined him and found that one of his arms was broken and that he had sustained numerous cuts and bruises about the body, arms and legs. Brewer was not in a condition to throw much light upon the manner in which he was injured. It was learned, however, that he had gotten aboard a train at Hammond and the circumstances indicate that he either attempted to jump off at Hobart while the train was moving or had fallen off. He is a young man and resides in Hammond.

NEXT MEETING OCTOBER 4.

The next meeting for the organization of the Pennsylvania Veteran Employes' association will be held at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. Monday, October 4, when the committee on constitution and by-laws will be ready to submit their report for approval. The membership list is growing rapidly and will come very near the 100 mark by the time for the meeting.

VETERAN ON A VACATION.

James Trease, who has worked for the Wabash over forty-five years, the latter part of the term at the freight house, is in Adrian, Mich., spending a vacation with relatives. This is the first vacation the aged employe has taken for several years.

MAY CUT OUT STOP OVERS.

Western roads, it is said, are considering the proposition to cut out many of the stop-over privileges that have existed for two years. Stop-over privileges were first granted only for Niagara Falls, Washington and a few other places of great interest, but now the practice has spread until it includes every city of any importance in the United States. The railways oppose the privilege because of the extra work and expense it entails in the accounting department.

DAN ELDRED IMPROVING.

Engineer Daniel Eldred, of the Pennsylvania, who has been very sick, continues to improve and this morning he arose and walked out into the yard, where he took, as he expressed it, "a sunbath" for a half-hour or more. There is no reason why Mr. Eldred should not recover and his family is greatly encouraged by the improvement he has made.

INSPECTING EASTERN BRANCHES

S. F. Bowser, W. G. Zart, Allen A. Bowser and S. B. Bechtel, officials of S. F. Bowser & Company, left yesterday for the east, where they will visit the several branches of the concern, being joined in the work at Toronto by A. Z. Polhamus, who went there several days ago. Next week the party will witness the celebration of the Hudson-Fulton discoveries.

PIANOS AND ORGANS FOR GERMANY.

A car load of Packard pianos and organs left the Wabash freight house this afternoon for New York. Thence they will go to Germany, where the Packard pianos and organs are nearly as well known and popular as they are in America. Thousands of them are in the homes of the people in Germany.

MACEDONIAN INJURED.

Christo Pete, a Macedonian employed as a laborer at the Bass foundry, was rolling a wheel yesterday when it got beyond control and fell against him and sprained and bruised one of his knees severely. He resides on Holman street, where he was taken after the accident.

FINGER BROKEN AND BRUISED.

J. V. Gruber, a sheet metal worker, had the little finger of his left hand broken and the flesh bruised yesterday when he got it under the edge of a boiler plate he was handling. Mr. Gruber is employed at the Kerr Murray works, where the accident happened.

LOST END OF FINGER.

Machinist H. Graham had the end of an index finger crushed off last night while at work in the Pennsylvania shops. He will be unable to work for awhile.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Peter Lepper and F. L. Thompson, Pensylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Ben Boyce is sick and Ristey Bruner has a lame arm that disables him. Both are Wabash shopmen.

W. C. Hagen, a machinist, took a position with Foreman H. T. Hogan at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

Peter Landerburger, of the Wabash shops, who is sick, went to the Peru hospital this morning to take treatment.

The C., H. & D. stockholders will hold their annual meeting on Tuesday, October 12, at which time directors will be elected.

Henry Smith will go to Logansport tomorrow and Joseph Monahan to Peru to spend a couple of days with relatives and friends. They are Wabash shopmen.

O. W. Smith, of the New York Central, is here today, inspecting a number of car wheels for the Lake Erie and Western road. Mr. Smith resides at Cleveland.

Howard Majors, J. A. Colchin and J. E. Mason, pipefitters, have returned from Dola, where they spent two weeks piping the track tank that is being installed there.

Mrs. Amanda Moten, the mother of John Moten, of the Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Thomas Adams have returned from Findlay, where they attend the celebration of emancipation day.

S. C. Stoner, formerly of the Wabash shops, but now employed in shops in Indianapolis, is in Fort Wayne looking after some private business and calling on relatives and friends.

Charles S. Buesching, a Wabash employe, has returned from the company's hospital at Peru, having been there for treatment for a sprained knee. George Stockwell, a brakeman who had an injured eye, has also left the Peru hospital. There are four typhoid fever patients at the hospital,

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees With Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find 'Grape Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and refreshing.'

"This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice for flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress.

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients.

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick."

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fag, a 10 day trial of Grape Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding and in this way ending the trouble.

"There's a Reason" and trial proves.

LIKELY TO STAY THERE.

Coppock Motor Car Company May Remain in Decatur.

Information from Decatur is to the effect that citizens of that city have been successful in enlisting additional capital for the Coppock Motor Car company, and that from the present outlook the factory will remain in Decatur. Some time ago a movement was inaugurated to bring the institution to Fort Wayne, and this aroused the Decatur people to the necessity of doing something to retain it.

Three plain drunks consumed about five minutes in the city court today. They gave the names of Thomas Williams, John Bernard and Clem Ensley and each was fined $1 and costs.

CONFER TO AID IDLE MINERS.

Union Heads Will Help 190 Men Who Feared to Ride in Cage.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 24.—Following a conference with Secretary Penna and President Rollins United Mine Workers of America, District No. 11, yesterday, Board Member Dooley of the mine committee of Clinton No. 8, was instructed to visit the mine and endeavor to fix matters up so that the 190 men who quit work owing to the breaking of the tipple braces can resume their places without further loss of time. The braces became twisted and weakened when a cage broke loose. The damage was repaired, but, in the opinion of the check workman, not thoroughly. The miners feared for their lives.

Tailoring Means Draping

When a tailor undertakes to make a suit of clothes for you he does not merely fit you.

One shoulder higher than the other? Tall and Slim? Short and fat? Your clothes, if correctly made, should conceal instead of fitting the short-comings of your shape.

The tailor conceals by artistic draping your eccentricities of figure. He drapes the garment about your personality; makes you an INDIVIDUAL.

ON THE THRONE OF MOROCCO.

MULAI-ABD-EL-HAFID, SULTAN OF MOROCCO

FROM LONDON ILLUSTRATED NEWS

Recent troubles of the sultan of Morocco have brought him and his country into prominence. His success in overcoming El Raghi, the pretender to the throne, was followed by charges of such cruelty to the pretender's captured followers that representatives of other powers warned him he must be more humane. El Raghi was fastened into an iron cage, and, exposed to the gibes and jeers of the sultan's faithful subjects, was carried to Fez on the back of a camel, guarded by fifteen hundred soldiers.

THE ANNUAL SCANDAL.

WHAT was the deed
Of which they chatter
As gossips feed
On some small matter?
Each August they
Seem to remember
And fuss away
All through September.

"She did!" says one.
"Did not!" another.
And thus begun
They try to smother
Each other's cries
By louder calling
Until the skies
Repeat their bawling.

Was it a sin
Or error weighty
That came within
The life of Katy?
One lifts his voice
Just to attack her,
And ten rejoice
Right then to back her.

And all their tones
Get in a tangle,
One side condones;
The others wrangle.
We know her name
And thus her gender,
But what's the claim
Of her defender?

Know what she was?
Know what she wasn't?
One shrieker does,
The other doesn't.
Poor Katy! It
Still seems a toss-up,
But you're a bit
Of yearly gossip.

—Chicago Post.

A Graduate.

"Look here, young man, don't you talk to me that way!" exclaims the man outside the ticket window in the station.

"Whajjasay?" growls the ticket agent.

"I say you've got to be more civil to me. I'm here to spend my money for a ticket, and I demand prompt and courteous attention."

"Aw, wajjagoin' to do about it?"

"I'll do a-plenty."

"Aw, wajjaknow about that?"

"I know enough. I used to be a ticket agent myself, and you'll lose your job the same way I lost mine if you don't get busy and get better."

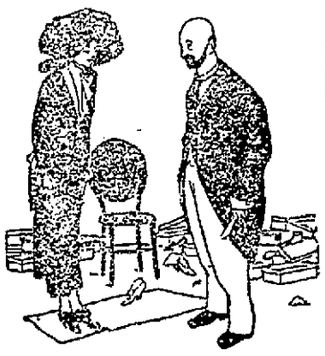
With trembling fingers and apologetic speech the agent then waited upon the irate stranger.—New York Life.

Pat's Narrow Escape.

During the South African war an Irish trooper on outpost duty one night felt so desperately tired that he thought he would have a five minutes' nap. Placing his helmet on a dock, he lay down and was soon in a sound sleep. Waking suddenly, he mistook his helmet for one of the enemy, drew his sword and dealt it a severe blow.

Perceiving his mistake, the trooper picked up his helmet, which he had cut in two, and gave thanks to heaven that he had taken it off before lying down. "For," he soliloquized, "had my head been inside that it's ten to one a dead man I would have been seeing meself at this moment!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Polite Shoemaker.



"Do you see that I have one foot longer than the other?"

"On the contrary, one seems smaller than the other."

A Little Lad's Fish Story.

"Thomas," said his mother severely, "you are telling everybody that when you and papa went fishing the other day you caught a fish, a big fish! Now, Thomas, you know better."

"W-e-ll," replied the three-year-old, digging his toe into the carpet meditatively, "pr-r-aps I didn't, but—I—fought I did."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Indomitable Energy.

"Are you sure that our son has patience and industry and determination and those other qualities that make for success?" said the anxious mother.

"Great Scott!" rejoined the nervous father. "Can you doubt it? Haven't you heard him learning to play 'Home, Sweet Home,' on the mouth organ?"—Washington Star.

The Retort Courteous.

"George asked if your beautiful color was your own, and of course, dear, I had to tell him no."

"Yes, George taxed me with it, and I told him it was true—I had borrowed some of your supply."—Baltimore American.

One Argument.

Editor—Will you give me a single reason why I should accept your stuff?

Poet—I can. If you used it you could keep the stamps I inclose for its return.—Cleveland Leader.

A Modern Instance.

I want you now to understand
I only held Myrtilla's hand
For fun.
That seems no cause to make a fuss,
And yet our love affair was thus
Begun.
I found her suited to my taste,
So slipped my arm around her waist
For fun.
She only heaved a little sigh.
She didn't scream and didn't cry
Or run.
But then it was I made a slip—
I kissed her on the ruby lip
For fun.
She murmured, "Yes, I'll be your wife!"
'Twas thus that I, upon my life,
Was won!

GOVERNOR JOHNSON IS BURIED AT OLD HOME

Large Crowds Pay Honor to the Dead Executive of Minnesota.

St. Peter, Minn., Sept. 24.—The body of Gov. John A. Johnson was buried in the family lot in Green Hills' cemetery yesterday afternoon. The body was brought from St. Paul on a special train. The funeral cortege, escorted by state militia and representatives of state and civic organizations, proceeded to the Presbyterian church, where the body lay in state for an hour and a half before the religious services were held. Rev. R. E. Clarke read the sermon, using the text: "Know ye not that a prince and a great man has fallen this day."

The funeral was attended by hundreds of distinguished men from Minnesota and other states. The large crowd that gathered at the church could not be accommodated, although the people passed through the church continually from the time of the arrival of the body until the services began. The school children passed through first, then the students of Gustavus Adolphus college, and then the general public. The seating capacity of the church was limited to 600, only a small fraction of the throng that came to see and hear.

Military Salute is Fired.

Brief services were held at the cemetery, and the local company of the National Guard fired a salute as the casket was lowered into the grave.

The usual Presbyterian form of funeral service was used, and Rev. R. E. Clarke, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preached the sermon. On the platform were Rev. Peter Cary, formerly of St. Peter, now of St. Paul; Rev. W. D. Stires, of the local Episcopal church, and Rev. D. J. Moran, of St. Peter. There was three numbers on the musical program. Mrs. Frank O'Meara, of St. Paul, sang "Here and There," Max Schlender rendered a baritone solo and the choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light."

Speaks of State's Loss.

In announcing his text Rev. Clarke said that no more expressive couplet than a prince and a great man could be used to characterize Gov. Johnson. He spoke of the great loss to the state and to the nation in the death of Gov. Johnson, and closed with a glowing personal tribute to his character and personal as well as civil achievements.

The floral tributes were taken to the church and cemetery by the wagon load. The various state departments, municipal, civic and fraternal organizations, as well as individuals, contributed set pieces and beautiful bouquets.

Why Druggists Recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. Frank C. Hanrahan, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: "For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a great remedy and one of the best patent medicines on the market. I handle some others for the same purposes that pay me a larger profit, but this remedy is so sure to effect a cure, and my customer so certain to appreciate my recommending it to him, that I give it the preference." For sale by all druggists.

Best Treatment for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequaled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Catching the "Man Higher Up"

Luther Trant has discovered a way to catch the "man higher up."

He fastens the crime on to the one who engineers it—not the miserable tool.

A thrilling and intensely absorbing detective story that deals with the latest and scientific method of detecting crime—by mind-reading machinery.

Beside it, the most famous detectives, the "Third Degree" and Hypnotism seem amateurish.

At a court of justice in Australia much frequented by Chinese a newly appointed crier was ordered by the judge to summon a witness to the stand. "Call for Ah Song," was the command. The crier was puzzled for a moment. He glanced shyly at the judge, but found him quite grave. Then he turned to the spectators. "Gentlemen," he asked, "would any of you favor his lordship with a song?"

A Sprained Ankle.

As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully a cure may, in most cases, be affected in less than one week's time. SPAIN AND MOROCCO MAY LOCK HORNS IN WAR

Conditions Getting Ripe for Spain to Make Good at Home.

Madrid, Spain, Sept. 24.—It is generally believed here that the complications that have arisen between Spain and Mulai Hafid, the sultan of Morocco, are likely to result in a Spanish-Moroccan war, that is, a war between Spain and the forces of the sultan of Morocco in distinction to the present fighting which is limited to the Moorish tribesmen inhabiting the Riff country.

Spain today has over sixty thousand troops in northern Africa, with 11,000 more mobilizing for service there and the government feels that only the brilliant completion of the work begun can defeat the plans of political enemies at home.

The situation at Barcelona is causing renewed anxiety. Bomb explosions on the streets there are almost of daily occurrence, but the newspapers that print even the rumors of such occurrences are seized by the authorities. The minister of the interior insists that the government is not fighting its political enemies, but rather a widespread anarchistic plot.

"The charge that we closed the lay schools without reason is false," an official said today. "The schools were closed because of the preaching of anarchist doctrines against religion and social order that could not be tolerated by any government. When the time comes we shall vindicate ourselves before the cortes."

HEMMING IN THE MOORS.

Melilla, Morocco, Sept. 24.—The operation of clearing and occupying the peninsula north of Melilla continues with little resistance. The Spanish forces now hold an entrance from the sea west to the foot hills of Mount Guruga to prevent the Moors from getting to the rear. The Spanish have occupied also an important strategic position at Nador to the southward. This is preliminary to the real work of outflanking the Moors upon Mount Guruga.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 24.—The wheat market opened rather weak today with prices a shade higher to ¼c lower, but soon became firm on active general demand for the December delivery. Dealing in the September delivery was almost at a standstill and the price of that delivery during early trading held a trifle below yesterday's final figures. The heaviness at the start was due to weak cables and to the continued free movement in the northwest. Opening quotations on December were 98¾@99c. Offerings of this delivery became meager soon after the opening and the price advanced to 99⅜c.

Weakness again developed during the last half of the day, the selling pressure on the September delivery being especially noticeable. The price of that option dropped from $1.03⅛ to $1.01. December sold off from 99½c to 98¾c. The close was weak, with September off 1⅞c at $1.01⅜. December was down ⅜@½c at 98½c.

Weak cables, liberal receipts and a poor cash demand inspired free selling of corn at the start, which resulted in considerable weakness. The December delivery displayed the greatest weakness and opened ⅛c to ⅝c lower at 58⅞@59¾c. For a time the price held within the opening range.

The corn market increased in weakness as trading progressed. December declined to 58⅛@55¼c. The close was weak at the lowest point, with December off 1¼@1⅝c at 58⅛@58¼c.

Oats were steady. Prices at the opening were a shade higher, December being at 38¾c. Later December advanced to 38⅞c.

Provisions were firm on covering by shorts. Lard was in especially good demand. Prices at the opening were unchanged to 10c higher.

STOCK AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 24.—Prices of stocks moved narrowly and uncertainly in the opening dealings. Advances of large fractions in Pennsylvania and Consolidated Gas showed the greatest changes on that side, while Third Avenue declined 1½ and Mackay Companies ¾. The dealings were in only moderate volume.

Bulls supported the market after the initial dealings and brought about a good rally which sent Union Pacific, Reading and Pennsylvania a point over yesterday's final prices, American Sugar 1¾ and Consolidated Gas 1½. Large blocks of Reading and United States Steel were then offered for sale and the advances were wiped out all around. Prices were improving at 11 o'clock, but the demand was light. Atlantic Coast Line and Delaware & Hudson declined 1 point, St. Paul preferred 1½. Mackay Companies rose 1¼ and Central Leather 1 point.

Selling of Reading was renewed after Union Pacific had risen to its previous high price. Reading was forced ¾ under last night. Central Leather rose 1⅝. United Railways and Investment 1½ and St. Louis Southwestern and Brooklyn Transit 1. Great Western A Certificates, Iown Central preferred, Ore Certificates declined 1 point. Bonds were easy.

Fluctuations became unimportant when the market quieted down. The tone, however, was better. Canadian Pacific moved up 1⅜ points. Atchison preferred gave way a point.

While the trend of the market was upward there was not much movement in prices, speculation taking on the anteholiday aspect. United States Steel advanced to near 85, but met sales at the top, which in turn caused the rest of the list to sag.

The market closed unsettled and irregular. The rise in United States Steel to 85⅛ pulled prices up, but they yielded when selling offerings was renewed. American Locomotive, American Beet Sugar, Virginia Iron, Tennessee Copper and International Paper declined 1 point. Reading ran off to 1 below yesterday and the gains elsewhere were lost.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Sept. 24.—Close: Prime mercantile paper, 4½ to 5 per cent; sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 484.25@484.35 for sixty day bills, and at 486.10 for demand; commercial bills, 483¾; barsilver, 51½; Mexidollars, 43; government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, heavy.

Money on call firm, at 2¾@3 per cent; ruling rate, 2¾ per cent; closing bid, 2¾ per cent; offered at 3 per cent.

Time loans soft and very dull; sixty days, 3½@3¾ per cent; ninety days, 3¾ per cent; six months, 4@4¼ per cent.

LOCAL MARKET EPITOME.

The receipts in produce today were not what was expected. The only feature of the markets was the weaker tone the potato market is taking, owing to the poorer quality of the article. Though the quotation remains at 50@55c per bushel, it is likely to decline soon. Other lines are the same.

One of the few other things of interest is the advance of wheat of 1c to $1.10 per bushel. The market is on the ascend and there is no telling when it will stop.

BESIDE THE BODY OF LAWTON.

Remains of General Corbin Buried in Arlington.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Almost side by side with the bodies of Generals Lawton and Wiest, the body of the late Lieut.-Gen. Henry C. Corbin was interred in Arlington National cemetery today in the presence of the members of General Corbin's family and his close personal friends. The body has reposed in the receiving vault of the cemetery since September 10.

The religious services at the grave, brief but impressive, were conducted by Rev. W. W. Brander, chaplain of the Fifteenth cavalry, Fort Meyer, Va.

CHARGE OF FRAUD IS MADE.

District Attorney Seeks to Annul Citizenship Certificate of Swede.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 24.—Charging that the certificate was obtained through fraud, in that the applicant did not intend to remain in this country, Charles W. Miller, district attorney, filed proceedings in federal court yesterday against Oliver Anderson, now living in Sweden. Anderson, it is alleged, was granted a certificate of citizenship by the circuit court of Allen county, July 11, 1905. He returned to Sweden in 1908. It is asked that the certificate be declared null and void.

Delighted

Was the expression heard on all sides during our two days' exposition of Fall merchandise. Everybody was pleased with the attractive showing made in all departments and surprised at the varity of goods, of style and quality shown. Old customers have long known the advantages of this store as a satisfactory trading place; to the new friends which our opening days have brought us we extend a cordial invitation to come again. We offer only merchandise that is reliable and a store service that is prompt and pleasant.

CITY BREVITIES.

P. T. Strieder, of this city, is assisting in officiating at the races at Adrian, Mich., this week.

The annual inspection of the Fort Wayne Commandery, No. 4, Knights Templars, will be held next Monday evening.

Commander Robert Coontz, of the United States navy, was a visitor at the local recruiting office yesterday. He is en route to Annapolis after a leave of absence.

Thomas R. Cook, of the Pennsylvania motive power offices, has been called to Oshkosh, Wis., because of the death of his mother. Mrs. Cook had often visited in this city and had gained an extended acquaintance among Fort Wayne people.

A delegation of members of the Fort Wayne Homestead, No. 376, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, will go to Decatur next Thursday evening aboard a special interurban car to participate in a social evening the Decatur Modern Woodmen will hold.

Lieutenant James Willson, who has been spending a leave of absence of the past several months in this city, has left for New York, where he has been assigned to the battleship New Jersey. Lieut. Willson was formerly in charge of one of the smaller boats along the Pacific coast.

WANTED—Girls or women over age of 16 years who can operate power sewing machines for sewing cotton flannel and husking cloth gloves and mittens. Steady employment and good wages assured. If interested, for further particulars, call at Economy Glove Co., corner Wallace and Barr. 8-22-tf

VETERANS SURPRISED HIM.

Theodore Geller, of 665 Huffman street, who has just returned from a seven weeks' trip in the west, on which he was accompanied by Louis Zollinger, last night received a number of his Slon S. Bass post, Grand Army of the Republic friends, whose visit was a big surprise to him. Judge Samuel M. Hench headed the visitors, who were William Engle, Reuben Kaylor, Captain Bryson, John Hess, Alfred Daugherty, Frank J. Potter, Christ Kinzlie and wife, Louis Zollinger, John Merillet, Jacob Rhine, William F. Geller and wife. Mrs. Geller had anticipated the evening and after several hours had been whiled away with reminiscences, a delightful luncheon was served.

SOUVENIRS AT THIS FALL OPENING

The new Fall Season brings into prominence all that is ne wand desirable in seansonable apparel—and also the inevitable Fall Opening, when all lovers of beautiful clothes enjoy the privilege of looking at the newest things while they are at their very best. Such a Fall Opening will take place at the Menter & Rosenbloom Co. store, 1001, 1003 and 1005 Calhoun street Saturday, September 25th.

This firm is the oldest and most successful of all clothing houses in the credit field. They carry Men's, Women's and Children's Clothing, Hats, Shoes, etc. They make a great part of their goods in their own factory and cater to the increasing wants of an immense clientele in all of the leading cities of the country.

The opening, which will be held tomorrow, has been especially prepared for; the new goods will be shown in delightful array, the store will be tastefully decorated and all who attend will receive special souvenirs.

LABOR TIMES-HERALD IN ERROR

Grand Opening Sale of Pfeiffer Place Oct. 2—A Typographical Error Shows Opening Tomorrow.

In announcing the deferring of the opening sale of Pfeiffer Place lots until one week from tomorrow, Saturday, Oct. 2, in some manner an error crept in, and the Labor Times-Herald in its issue of yesterday shows the opening sale as being tomorrow.

Mr. Doud, who has charge of this sale, wishes to have it clearly understood that while anybody will be allowed at any time to make a selection of a lot, the opening sale will not occur until one week from tomorrow, Oct. 2.

The deferring of the opening was occasioned on account of the company having given additional contracts for sidewalks totaling some 25,000 square feet. It will be impossible to complete these sidewalks before one week longer, and the delay in time also gives the street graders longer time in which to make a showing.

Mr. Doud's men are at the office on the addition every day from morning until night, overseeing the improvements that are being made and showing prospective buyers.

The office phone is 1253, the city phone is 253.

WOLF & DESSAUER

Saturday is Children's Day

Especial attention has been given this year to children's wear. Each little garment has been chosen because of the excellence of material and its neatness of make, with just as much quality as could be procured for the price. Bring the children here tomorrow if you would provide Fall school clothes or "dress-up" togs for the children and young girls.

Hats, Caps and Bonnets Quaint and Pretty

Just the sort of frames to set off childish faces, and the price most economical.

NEW HATS—Charming shapes of felt and patent leather; priced at 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.25.

JAUNTY CAPS—Made to stand knock about wear and retain their shapes; priced at 50c, 75c and $1.00.

Babe's Bonnets—Quaint new shapes, made of felt, silk and curly bear, plain and trimmed, with soft silk ribbon bows; priced at 50c, 75c, $1.00 and up.

Girls' Dresses That are Pretty and Practical

That they are pretty will appeal to the girls, that they are practical will be a strong point in their favor with the mothers. These new wash dresses are made of splendid material, fashioned as neatly as the home dress maker could make them, and are ideal for school wear. Sizes 4 to 12 years; priced from 50c to $6.00.

Knit Jackets That are Just Right Now

Now's the time the children need a knit jacket. They're light in weight, yet provide sufficient warmth.

KNIT SWEATER JACKETS—For children from 1 to 4 years, white, oxford and red; priced from $1.00 to $3.00.

KNIT SWEATER JACKETS—4 to 12 years, priced from $1.00 to $3.00.

A Snugly Warm Coat Will Soon Be Needed

We want every mother to see our line of children's coats. Every fabric suitable for these garments is represented; the styles are new and pretty, the workmanship perfect and prices as low as possible in keeping with the quality.

There are coats made of plain and curly bear, crushed plush; all plain and mixed cloths; sizes 2 to 14 years; priced from $2.50 to $20.00.

Thermometer Says Heavier Underwear

We're ready to supply the Fall and Winter underwear needs with the "sorts of quality." The line is complete with everything for men, women and children; all grades, all weaves, all sizes.

Removal Sale

On or about November 1st, 1909, we will move our store to the beautiful new Kappel Building, 115 E. Wayne Street, opposite the Fruit House.

Starting Monday morning, September 27th, we will offer our entire stock of China, Glassware, Queensware, Lamps, etc., at ridiculously low prices. We will sacrifice this stock rather than try to move it, owning to its being so extremely fragile. Our intention is to give the people of Fort Wayne and vicinity a genuine bona-fide sale and bargains unheard of. Select your Christmas presents from our stock during this enormous sale.
